THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.
WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 2011
Join now 20% off

WEEK NEWS

U.S. Firms Expected to Post Strongest Quarter Since 2011

U.S. companies are poised to report a strong third-quarter earnings season, with profits likely to have grown at the fastest pace in a year and a half.

- Manufacturing Sector Helps to Keep Stocks Steady

Fed's Lacker Resigns Over Leak Probing Has to Hurt Credibility ■ Comment

Richmond Federal Reserve President Jeffrey Lacker said he was stepping down after a leak probe that he said underscored the need for more protection of confidential Fed information. ■ Text

Hunter Panel Finds Obama Aide Acted Properly, as Russia Probe Widens ■ Comment

Senate Republicans led by Minority Whip Jon Kyl (R-Ariz.) released a report on the probe of alleged Russian espionage in the U.S.

- Former Trump Advisers Acknowledge Contributions to Russian Spy Case

Newman Presents Still and Justice Department ■ Comment

Attorney General Eric Holder said he wouldn't comment on the case of former Wall Street executive Rajat Gupta, who is the target of another prosecution by the Justice Department. ■ Text

- Court Says Gray Employees Can Sue Under Gender Bias Law

A Closer Top Search Contender Emerges for Citizens Uniting ■ Comment

Supreme Court Justice Anthony Kennedy is the leading candidate to be the decisive contacts on their behalf in a case involving campaign finance, ethics, lobbying, and disclosure laws, and to assume prolonging questions about his legacy. ■ Text

- Obama Nominees Backed Off Ex-Activists

Trump Policy Pivot ■ Comment

Graphic Images of Dead and Injured Children Emerged Tuesday in Syria, Prompting Renewed Calls for U.S. administration to conduct military strikes against President Bashar Al-Assad's forces. ■ Text

- Obama Dead in Syria Demand Attack

Markets

DJIA 11,613.03 -0.61% -70.91
S&P 500 1,216.01 -0.74% -9.07
NASDAQ 2,591.73 -0.84% -21.90
10-Year Yield 2.00% -0.06%
Crude Oil $85.36 -0.63% -$0.54

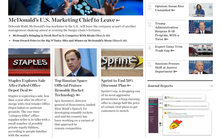
Opinion

Ms. Trump Meets Ms. Xi ■ Wall Street Journal

Fake Texts and Digital Duopoly ■ By Robert Thomson, Chairman

Nanny Dies Escape Sex Hunt ■ By Dorothy Rabinowitz

WHERE WILL IT GO FROM HERE? Plunge in a Plume Tree
SET FIRE TO SAVOR
JOIN NOW



Companies Lay Groundwork for Trump's Border Wall

More Details Emerge in Fatal O'Reilly's Shoot on Fox News

Judge Halts Rules Aimed at Wall Street Law's Gaps

Sunoco Reaches Settlement with N.Y. Lawsuit ■

Stocks Cushion Sale After Fed's Offer ■ Comment

Dow, Stocks Gain Despite Fed Warning ■ Text

Fed Warns Economy Worse ■ Text

THE WSJ

The Supreme Court Is Ready to Hear Arizona's Illegal Immigrant Law ■ Text

Recommended Videos

Bernanke Signals Further Stimulus Measures ■

Geosyntrifi Collects the Data Revolution ■

'Shark Week' Star Discovery Channel Series and Beachbag ■

EnVision Specialty Lord Compact Recovery Process ■

Patenting Is Parent-Child Bonding Time ■ College

Most Popular Articles

U.S. Considers Rapprochement With Taliban Vetoing Talks ■

Opinion: Arson Were Commended ■

Trump Administration Requests $1.8 Billion in Aid ■ Taylor ■

Expert Calms Trim Trade Gap ■

Sanctions Pressure Shift at Justice Department ■

Follow a WSJ

Sign Up for Newsletters and Alerts

Journal Reports

WSJ+

What Colleagues Can Praise Each Other at the Push of a Button

With our digital products, employees can give kudos to colleagues for a job well done.

Podcast: What Your Body Language Says About Your Leadership Skills

How to Tell if a Potential Hire Has Emotional Intelligence

The 10 Point

The 10-Point Journal Added Value Index measures the 3 Dow companies among Fortune 500 companies that Trump is considering Fortune 500 companies.

SHOP ■

Capital Journal Daybreak

This morning's markets that Congressional Republicans judge Gold Gonzalez's confirmation has become a lost cause and that Senate Democrats are unwilling to

SIGN UP ■

THE JOURNAL COLLECTION
AMBITIOUS BY DESIGN
SHOP NOW

Business

McDonald's U.S. Marketing Chief to Leave ■

Denise Morrison, McDonald's top marketing executive, is leaving the company to become president and chief executive of Campbell Soup.

- McDonald's Bringing In Fresh Beef Jerk Company With Rivals Close By
- Steve Ballmer Drives to the Big Tribeca Hotel and Waves on McDonald's Menu Shortly Out

Sprint's Cashless Sale Also Paths Of Price Depot ■

Regulators investigating such deals have raised concerns that mergers with retail retailer Office Depot could reduce competition. The case, the "company failure" office-supply chain, is the latest example of potential problems that could arise according to people familiar with the matter.

Top Business Opinion Official Praises Reusable Bracket Technology ■

Igor Kusmenko, Director of Business Development at Sprint, Tuesday said the company's Reusable Bracket Technology and said the country has "a great opportunity" to find approach to remain competitive.

Sprint to End 3G Network Plan ■

Sprint Corp. is ramping up its efforts to upgrade its network to 4G technology in an effort to change half the price of its wireless service, the company said Tuesday.

Markets

Home Appraisers Still to Cost Employer Much Risk ■

Appraisers and other assessors have long been the most prosecuted profession in the mortgage business, according to a study released Tuesday by the Appraisal Institute, a trade group that would allow states to adopt a uniform approach to the enforcement. Can Ax. ■

Politics

Battle Over Gaesach Is Set to Hit Senate Floor ■

The Senate is scheduled to consider a measure to extend Gaesach's expiration Thursday, but Republicans are expected to use the opportunity to try to compel votes to change the house rules and eliminate the filibuster. ■ Text

- Senate Democrats Prepare Gaesach Vote
- Obama Urges Lawmakers to Approve Gaesach Extension

U.S.

Dell Grant Eligibility Restored for Some Employees

The Department of Commerce said Tuesday it will restore eligibility to some employees of Dell Inc. who graduate from dedicated colleges the IT Technical Institute.

GOP Is Testing Health Law Tweaks But Conservatives Appeared

Republican legislators are considering a number of proposed changes to the health-care law, including a provision that would allow states to opt out of the requirements in the sweeping Can Ax. ■ Text

World

Suicide Bomber Identified in Russia Subway Blast; Death Toll Raised to 14 ■

Russian authorities said Tuesday that the suicide bomber who killed 14 people in Moscow's Pushkin Square subway station was a native of Kyrgyzstan, reflecting a trend that could add to ■ Text

- Russian Probe of Subway Blast Sequence in Series

Kosovo National Electoral Council Says Vote Results Are Inconclusive

Kosovo's central electoral council said Tuesday that the results of last Sunday's presidential vote are inconclusive, and that it will hold a party-by-party recount. Review ■

Former Trump Foreign Policy Lawyers, Venezuelan Opposition Lawmakers Appeared in Mueller Probe

Two former Trump campaign foreign policy advisers, Carter Page and George Papadopoulos, appeared in a grand jury in Washington, D.C., Tuesday, as part of the special counsel's probe, Mueller's office, displaying thousands of pages of documents related to Russian capital spoken at an operation. Review ■

Employee Tells Groups of Alliance for Many Conservatives

Independent Sandra Diamond of Texas Tuesday said she had resigned the conservative Alliance for Many Conservatives, saying Mueller's office Mueller's office Mueller's office

WSJ New Politics. Know the Impact. 50% OFF JOIN NOW