

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL

U.S. Edition | Today's Paper

Home World U.S. Politics Economy Business Tech Markets Opinion Arts Life Real Estate

What's News

U.S. Turns Up Heat on North Korea

The Trump administration is attempting a balancing act in its confrontation with Pyongyang, using bellicose rhetoric while trying to coax China to apply economic and political pressure. 1040

- Trump Finds China's North Korea Blind Spot
- The Threat From North Korea's Missiles

Trump to Boost 'Buy American,' 'Hire American' Directives

President Trump will sign an executive order in Wisconsin on Tuesday directing a government-wide review aimed at putting new teeth into "Buy American" and "Hire American" directives.

The Activist Battle That Felled Arconic's Kleinfeld

Klaus Kleinfeld was ousted as CEO of parts maker Arconic months after overseeing its creation amid the breakup of aluminum giant Alcoa, following heavy pressure from hedge fund Elliott Management.

- Heard: Elliott Wins an Early Round
- Meet Arconic's Interim Chairman and CEO

Netflix's Subscriber Growth Slows

Netflix's U.S. and international subscriber growth slowed in the first quarter, coming in below expectations, though profit grew as content costs were lower than anticipated.

- Spoiler Alert: Debt and Cash Flow Matter

Afghan commandos on Monday in Shadal, a village near where the U.S. recently targeted Islamic State militants with a massive bomb. Andrew Quilty for The Wall Street Journal

In Afghanistan, Battle With ISIS Grinds On After Big Bomb

Near the blast site of the "Mother of All Bombs," U.S. and Afghan forces are trying to dislodge Islamic State from a mountain stronghold where the militant group recently established a new front.

Observers Question Turkish Referendum Result

International observers said a closely contested vote on Turkey's presidential powers contravened Turkish law by changing rules on ballot-counting at the last minute, one of several alleged voting irregularities. 96

- Referendum Win Sets Up Fight With Europe
- Turkey Vote Results Spark Protests

Cleveland Murder Video Forces Scrutiny at Facebook

Facebook is reviewing how it handles objectionable content after a Cleveland man posted a video of a murder on the site, sparking outrage over the social-media giant's failure to more closely monitor violence on its platforms. 227

- Search Widens for Murder Suspect

The Endangered 'Good Doctor'

Health Insurers Scramble to Price Plans as Policy Seesaws

Theranos Agrees to Two-Year Ban From Blood Testing

Lorde's Coachella Comeback

SPORTS

Russell Westbrook's Annoying Shadow

GREATER NEW YORK

New York City Moves Toward Requiring Uber Tipping Option

THE A-HED

King Kong Becomes the First Giant Ape to Lose a Fight to a Dead Turtle

Business

United Earnings Beat Expectations

United Continental Holdings Inc., which has faced a week of turbulence over the violent removal of a passenger, reported Monday that while increased fuel costs cut into its latest quarterly profit, adjusted earnings still topped Wall Street's expectations.

Sitting on Trove of Rubies, Gemfields Looks to Create Fresh Demand

With a treasure trove of rubies in its Montepuez mine, Gemfields is trying to bring scale to the market for a gem rarer than diamonds.

Some Firms Resist Handing Over Keys to the Boardroom

Several big businesses, including International Business Machines and Charles Schwab, are resisting investors' demands for greater boardroom clout ahead of this year's annual shareholder meetings.

Google Makes Nevada Land Grab for Data Center

Google last week paid $29.1 million for 1,210 acres at a private industrial park east of Reno, Nev., where it aims eventually to build a data center. 91

- A High-Stakes Arms Race for Data Centers

Markets

Investors Follow the Herd as 10 Big Stocks Power Market's Gains

Ten big stocks are exerting an unusually large influence on the S&P 500 in 2017, the latest sign that the herd instinct is alive and well on Wall Street.

- Stocks Climb as Earnings Season Ramps Up

5 Things to Watch in Goldman Sachs's Results

Goldman Sachs Group is expected to report its first-quarter results before the market opens Tuesday. Here's what you need to know.

AHEAD OF THE TAPE

Investors Are Giving IBM Too Much Credit

IBM's sharp rally, which caught many off guard, looks due for a breather.

This Is a Risky Time to Own Emerging Markets

A crack is forming in the emerging-market resurgence amid worries the buying spree has resulted in lofty valuations, while geopolitical tensions rise.

U.S.

Trump Presidency Weighs on His Business's Growth

Donald Trump's time in office is expected to slow the growth rate of the Trump Organization's revenue and income, son Eric Trump said, because of efforts to separate the presidency from the family businesses.

H-1B Visa Applications Drop

The number of applications for the H-1B visas used by high-tech companies and others to bring highly skilled workers to the U.S. dropped this year after years on the rise, the government said Monday.

Gorsuch Is Greeted by Highly Technical Cases

New Supreme Court Justice Neil Gorsuch took the bench on Monday, but instead of wrestling with the nation's grandest legal questions, his debut crashed into the drabness of the day's cases.

Arkansas Supreme Court Halts Two Executions Set for Monday Night

The top court in Arkansas halted the executions of two inmates scheduled for Monday night, fraying plans by Gov. Asa Hutchinson to put to death six men before the state's lethal injection drugs expire at the end of the month.

Books

GEAR & GADGETS

Three Books Every Geek Should Read This Spring

Brush up on comic-book history, landscape-photography dos and don'ts and the very recent annals of women in tech.

World

China Looks to Build a Major City From Scratch

The Chinese government plans to turn a swath of farmland and plastics factories south of Beijing into a new megacity, the epitome of the new model of growth China aspires to.

Former South Korean President Indicted for Bribery

South Korean prosecutors indicted Park Geun-hye on a number of charges including bribery, taking aim at the central figure in a corruption scandal that has led to indictments of some of the country's biggest players.

Video

Markets

U.S.	EUROPE	ASIA	FX	RATES	FUTURES
ID
5D
3M
6M
1Y

DJIA
S&P 500
Nasdaq
Russell 2000
DJ Total Mkt

Opinion

Black Men Speaking Latin

By William McGurn | Main Street

Trump's Deregulation Project

Review & Outlook

Weekdays With Bernie

By James Freeman | Best of the Web

Follow @WSJ

Sign Up for Newsletters and Alerts

Recommended Videos

- Big, Luxury SUVs Make a Comeback
- North Korea Parades 'Frankenmissile' Amid Tension With U.S.
- How Does China Turn Farmland Into a Megacity
- Vancouver's Top Futuristic Film Shoot Locations
- The Fight Against ISIS: Where Things Stand

Most Popular Articles

- Behind United Airlines' Fateful Decision to Call Police
- House Race Elicits Huge Sums, National Interest and Trump Tweet
- A Fall From Grace at KPMG
- Google Makes Nevada Land Grab for Data Center
- Lorde's Coachella Comeback

Journal Reports

When Robots Take to City Sidewalks

Startups in San Francisco and elsewhere are testing machines that carry your stuff from here to there.

Utility Structures as Works of Art? Take a Look

How Companies Should Prepare for Brexit

The 10-Point

The 10-Point: Gerard Baker on Erdogan's narrow win, the China-North Korea gambit, Calpers's expensive bets and more.

SIGN UP

Capital Journal Daybreak

WSJ's Gerald F. Seib explains where the fight against ISIS stands. Plus, Vice President Mike Pence visits the demilitarized zone that divides the Korean Peninsula, and more in our newsletter.

SIGN UP

Storm Lake Times Pulitzer Highlights Decline of Family Papers	Ex-Pentagon CIO to Advise Samsung's Mobile Enterprise Customers	Trade Rules, U.S. Policy Strymie Reshoring Efforts	Survey Roundup: Enterprises Embracing Encryption
	Logistics Report →	Barron's NEXT →	MarketWatch →
	Cities' New Shopping Hubs: Warehouse Distribution Centers	Why an Apple Car is Most Likely a Fantasy	Asian markets off to slow start after holiday weekend
	Today's Top Supply Chain and Logistics News From WSJ	Netflix Earnings: Have Investors Changed Their Tune?	Turkish markets rally, but strategists say gains may be fleeting
	Korean National Pension Service Agrees to Proposed Bailout for Shipbuilder 🇰🇷	Snapchat and Instagram Find a Way to Coexist	Election-battered Mexican peso is now on the verge of a bull market
Mansion Global →

Independent of The Wall Street Journal newsroom.

Sales Launched for Luxury Homes at Former Site of Brooklyn Hospital

Lauded Historic Palm Beach Home Finds Buyer

Dubai Residential Hits Bottom of Long Decline in Q1, Report Finds

WSJ Membership	Customer Service	Tools & Features	Ads	More
WSJ+ Membership Benefits	Customer Center	Emails & Alerts	Advertise	Content
Digital Subscription	Contact Us	Guides	Advertise Locally	Correct
Print Subscription	Live Help	My News	Commercial Real Estate Ads	Jobs at
Print and Digital Subscription	Redesign Guided Tour	RSS Feeds	Place a Classified Ad	News A
Why Subscribe?	Notice to Subscribers	Topics	Sell Your Business	Register
Download WSJ Apps for iOS and Android		Video Center	Sell Your Home	Reprint
Corporate Subscriptions		Watchlist	Recruitment & Career Ads
Professor Journal		Podcasts
Student Journal

Dow Jones Products	Barron's	BigCharts	DJX	Dow Jones Newswires	Factiva	Financial News	Mansion Global	MarketWatch
Private Markets	realtor.com	Risk & Compliance		WSJ Conference	WSJ Pro Central Banking		WSJ Video	WSJ Wine