

In the News Aaron Hernandez Ann Coulter 'Dreamer' deported Gay marriage Unicorn Prince Autistic student's arrest Bill O'Reilly Serena Williams

Bill O'Reilly is out at Fox News amid sexual harassment claims

The downfall of the network's biggest star was swift and steep after it was disclosed earlier this month that O'Reilly and Fox had paid settlements for sexual harassment complaints made by female colleagues over the years. O'Reilly continued to deny the allegations, calling the claims "unfounded" in a statement.

By Paul Fehrl

Analysis: Fox News scrubs O'Reilly's name from 'The Factor,' says viewers 'will have a lot of feelings'

Perspective

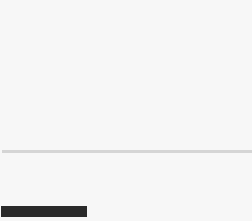

Bill O'Reilly's downfall teaches a wonderful lesson to working women

Gretchen Carlson and Megyn Kelly — whose accusations sped the undoing of two of the most powerful men in media, Roger Ailes and Bill O'Reilly — prove that there's strength in numbers when fighting sexual harassment.

By Margaret Sullivan

Berkeley cancels Ann Coulter's speech over fears of more violent protests

University officials said that they made the decision to cancel the conservative commentator's appearance after assessing the violence that flared on campus in February when the same college Republican group invited right-wing provocateur and former Breitbart editor Milo Yiannopoulos to speak.

By William Wan

Roger Stone in his office in Oakland Park, Fla. (Andrew Innerarity for The Washington Post)

Roger Stone helped Donald Trump get elected president. Now he's helping himself.

The caustic campaigner for Nixon and Trump is just where he wants to be: Back in the limelight and knee-deep in scandal as Congress is threatening to haul him before a committee investigating alleged Russian meddling in the presidential election. The attention couldn't come at a better time for Stone: He has a book to sell.

By Manuel Roig-Franzia

Trump and his aides sow confusion by sending mixed signals on foreign affairs

Jarring policy pronouncements or statements on Syria, Turkey and North Korea have spurred foreign diplomats and congressional lawmakers to express uncertainty about the administration's goals and about who is speaking on its behalf.

By David Nakamura and Karen DeYoung

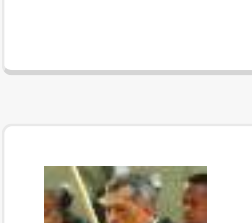

Fact Checker: Trump's claim that Korea 'actually used to be a part of China'

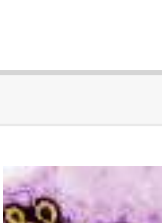

White House denies misleading public on ship movements amid rising North Korean tensions

Opinions

No, Mr. President, you can't do what you want

By E.J. Dionne Jr.

Bill O'Reilly is out, but don't get too excited

By Christine Emba

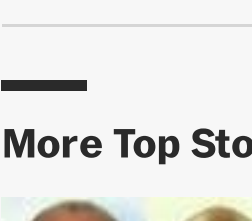

The Supreme Court jumps into a playground fight over a phony war on religion

By Dana Milbank

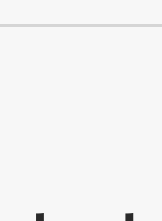

The risks of the Trump administration hollowing out American leadership

By William J. Burns

Why Thailand's military is trying to erase me from the Internet

By Pavin Chachavalponpong

The March for Science could save lives

Editorial Board

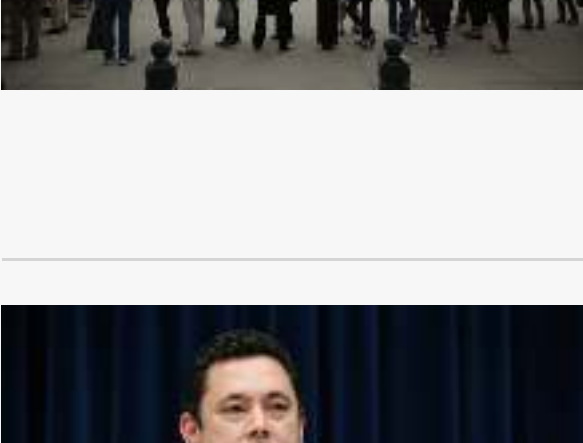

More Top Stories

Arkansas courts stay execution, block state from using lethal injection drug

The rulings Wednesday came just 24 hours before the state planned to carry out back-to-back executions.

By Mark Berman · 1 hour ago

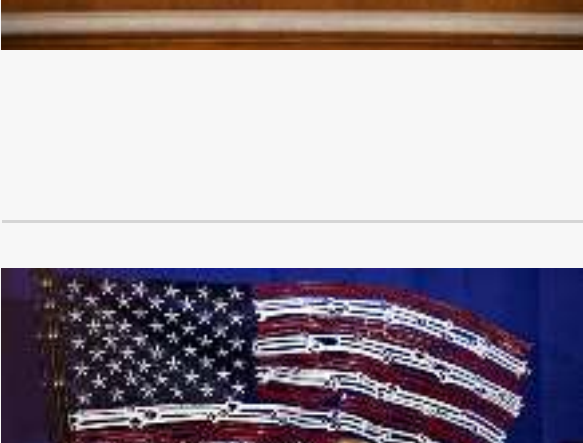

Justices express sympathy with church barred from state playground-repair program

The case centers on question of whether separation of church and state impinges on religious liberty.

By Robert Barnes

Both sides agree: This case has the potential to affect much more than playgrounds

The Fix Analysis

Why is Chaffetz suddenly retiring from Congress? One word: Ambition.

Life's not as fun when you've got a job investigating your own party's government. Also, we hear a governorship in Utah is open in 2020.

By Amber Phillips

Rep. Chaffetz will leave behind Oversight panel he used to investigate Obama White House

Trump blasts foreign worker program — at company that pays below-average wages to foreign workers

Snap-on Tools, where Trump signed his "Buy American, Hire American" executive order, pays below-average wages to the handful of foreign workers for whom the company has sought H-1B visas. The practice, critics say, has the effect of driving down wages for American workers.

By Tracy Jan

Secret Service further restricts public access to southern fence at White House

The changes come after a man carrying Mace scaled the fence last month and was able to roam the grounds for nearly 17 minutes before he was arrested.

By Mark Berman

Perspective

Aaron Hernandez was no innocent bystander during his bloodstained life

The former New England Patriots star, who hanged himself in his prison cell, had a talent for posturing and posing that failed to compensate for the destruction that followed in his path. His death ends a stunning fall from grace.

By Sally Jenkins

Hernandez's precipitous collapse ends in a Mass. prison cell

Rising Right

A youth revolt in France boosts the far right

Marine Le Pen's once long-shot and now undeniably viable bid to lead France rests on an unlikely source of support: Millennials who are usually at ease with immigration, trade and multiculturalism.

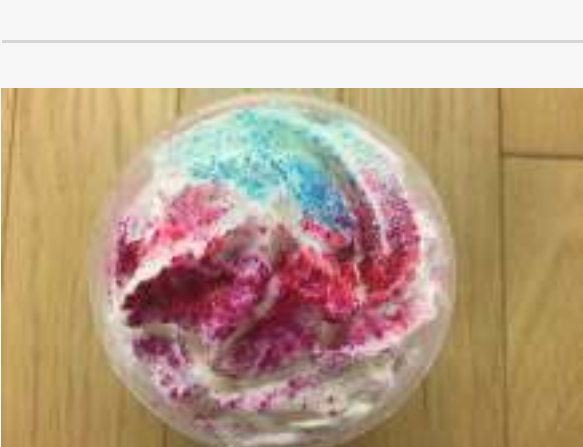

By Giff Witte and James McAuley

An asteroid won't hit Earth today. But what would happen if it did?

A very large asteroid, estimated at 0.8 miles wide, is whizzing past Earth today, about 1.1 million miles away. It's the closest this asteroid will get in 400 years, and it won't get this close again for at least 500 years.

By Angela Fritz

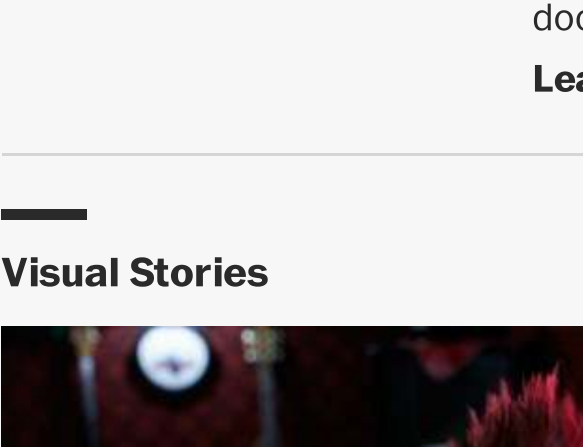

Absent Tom Brady, the Patriots and the president celebrate a Super Bowl

The NFL champions praised Trump for overcoming the same long odds they faced in their come-from-behind victory in Super Bowl LI.

By Kent Babb

Video: Several players skipped or boycotted event

Brady's wife, Gisele Bündchen, shares link to Trump protest

Perspective

The Starbucks Unicorn Frappuccino tastes like sour birthday cake. And shame.

The long-rumored drink, available nationwide until April 23, only exists to be Instagrammed (hashtag unicorn emoji, hashtag magical).

By Maura Judkis

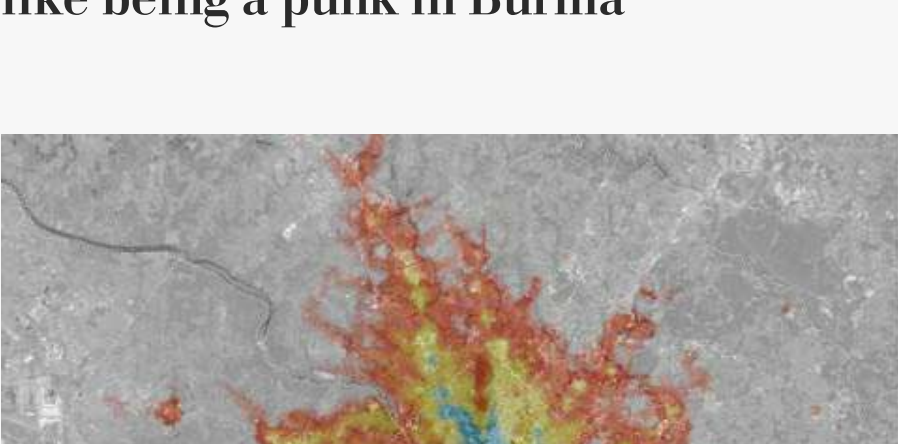

Share news tips with us confidentially

Do you have information the public should know? Here are some ways you can securely send information and documents to Post journalists.

Learn more »

Visual Stories

In Sight

(Jordii Pizzaro)

These photos show what it's like being a punk in Burma

Graphic

(Kevin Schaul and Kevin Uhrmacher/Post)

These lawmakers might want to consider crossing the aisle in the 115th Congress

Graphic

(John Muyskens, Armand Emanjdjomeh and Faiz Siddiqui/Post)

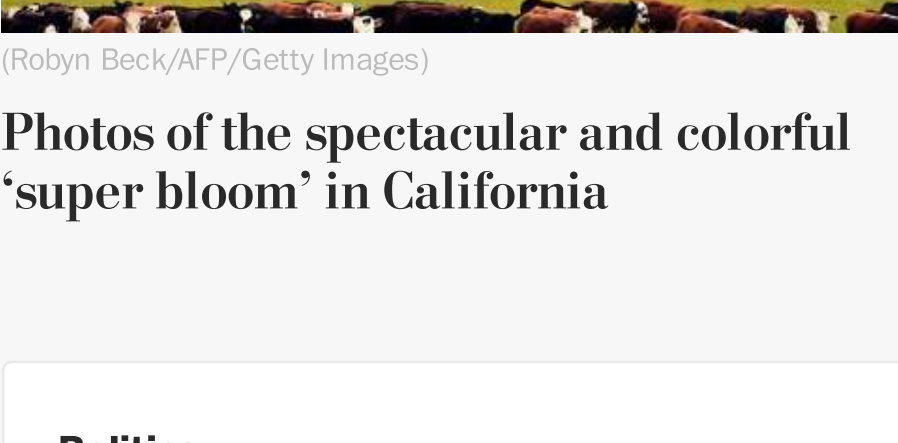

Here's where D.C. public transit can take you — and who gets left behind

View Photos

(Chris Jackson/Getty Images)

Here are 25 of the week's best photos

18 Photos

(John Muyskens, Armand Emanjdjomeh and Faiz Siddiqui/Post)

Photos of the spectacular and colorful 'super bloom' in California

View Photos

(Benita Griffiths/National Geographic Creative)

These stunning National Geographic images honor Earth Day

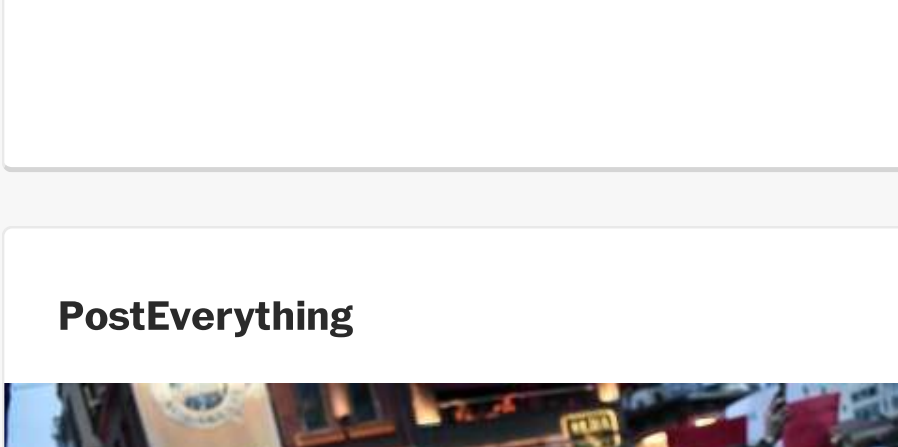

Democrats turn to Sanders and his star power to rebuild the party

Trump's first 100 days: Trump aides turn up the heat on Iran

Analysis: Fox News scrubs O'Reilly's name from 'The Factor,' says viewers 'will have a lot of feelings'

Trump and his aides sow confusion by sending mixed signals on foreign affairs

Perspective: Foreign policy is for lovers. Or is it?

Perspective: This is what the beginning of the end of democracy looks like Perspective: Don't evict tenants who smoke. People can't quit at will.

Review: Laura Linney and Cynthia Nixon were both up for the lead role in Broadway's 'The Little Foxes.' They both got it. Now you can see why.

Perspective: 'Be brave': Bill O'Reilly's downfall teaches a wonderful lesson to working women

Analysis: The battle over Prince's posthumous career is just beginning

Perspective: Carolyn Hax: Sorry, child care probably isn't Mission: Impossible for husband

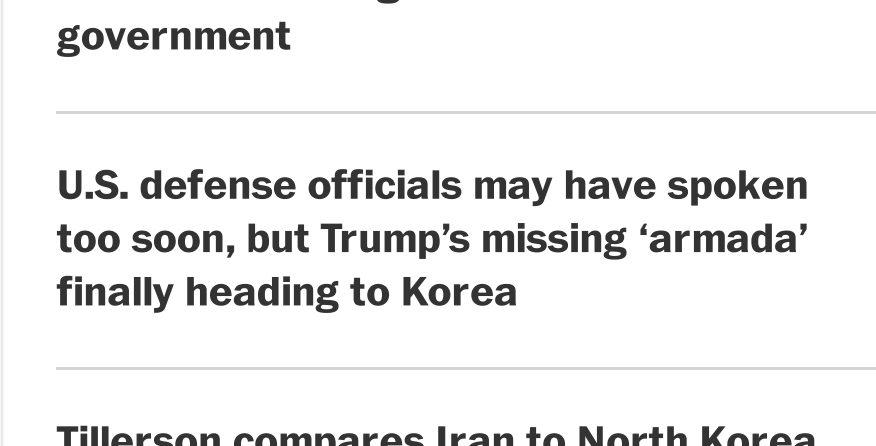

Bose headphones have been spying on customers, lawsuit claims

How Facebook reacted at its annual conference to the Facebook Live murder

Trump blasts foreign worker program at company that pays below-average wages to foreign workers

Read the latest from Capital Business

U.S. defense officials may have spoken too soon, but Trump's missing 'armada' finally heading to Korea

Tillerson compares Iran to North Korea, vows Trump administration won't pass the buck

Trump administration defends how it described ship movements amid North Korean tensions

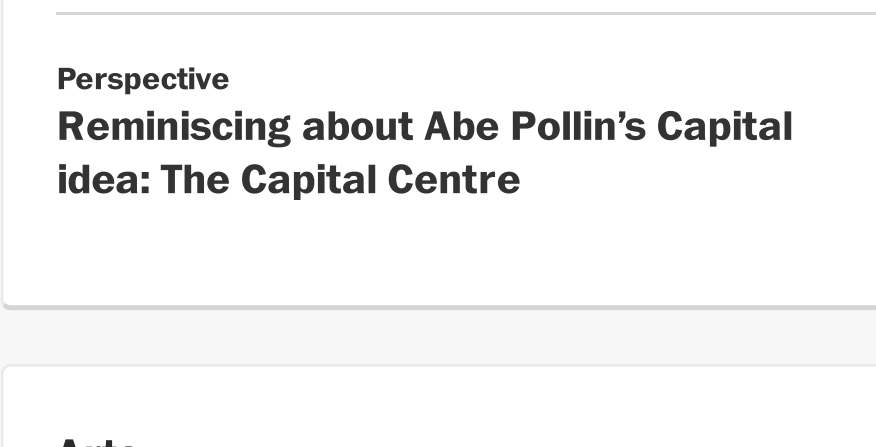

Metro GM proposes 'new business model' and $500 million a year in extra funding to save D.C.-area transit agency

Guilty plea expected in Maryland shooting rampage case that left three dead

'It's scary': Maryland man charged with trying to abduct two boys from playground

Perspective: Reminiscing about Abe Pollin's Capital idea: The Capital Centre

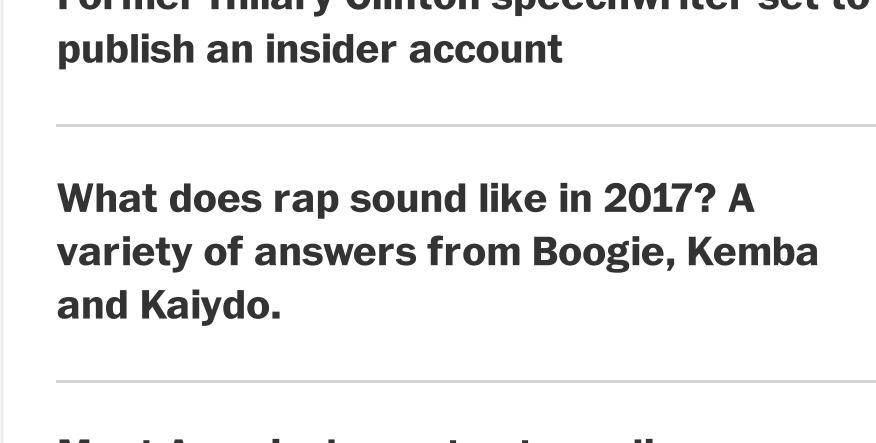

Former Hillary Clinton speechwriter set to publish an insider account

What does rap sound like in 2017? A variety of answers from Boogie, Kema and Kalydo.

Meet America's most extraordinary family: The Lowells

Review: Hub Theatre's 'The Late Wedding' is daring, but tends toward tedious

Perspective: Dueling letters from opposing groups warn Sessions on political hiring

Perspective: Desperate rhetoric, Trump plan focuses more on staff cuts than good government

Perspective: Trump gets a VA headache: 'serious deficiencies' at D.C. hospital

Trump can start cutting the federal workforce right now

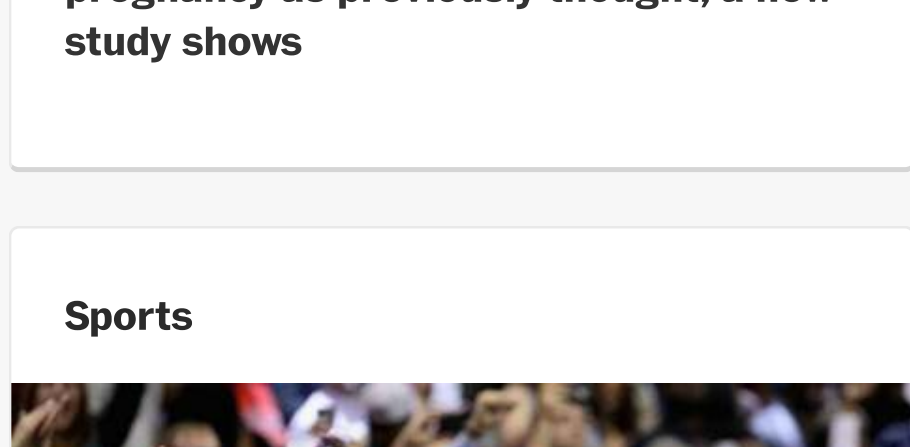

A 'dreamer' claims he was secretly deported. The government claims it never happened.

An asteroid will not destroy Earth today. But let's consider that for a moment.

Huffington Post invited the student journo who busted their principal to the White House counterparts' dinner

Antidepressants not as harmful during pregnancy as previously thought, a new study shows

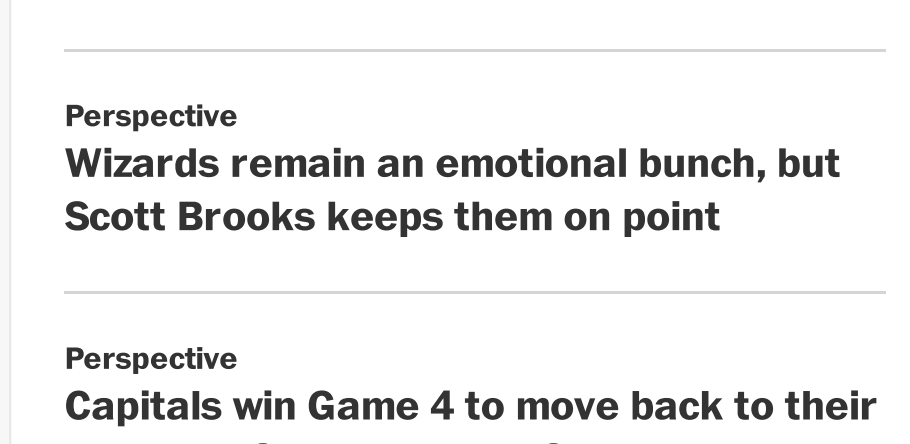

Perspective: The Caps and Wizards deliver a double-dose of desperate drama

Perspective: Wizards remain an emotional bunch, but Scott Brooks keeps them on point

Perspective: Capitals win Game 4 to move back to their least comfortable state: favored

For Hawks and Wizards, plenty of whistles while they work

Samsung's Galaxy S8 gives it a shot at reputation rehabilitation

D.C. appeals court poised to rule on whether police need warrants for cellphone tracking

What Windows users should know about the latest bugs revealed by NSA leakers

Analysis: What you're really agreeing to when you accept your smart TV's privacy policy

In Hyattsville, Md., friendships and shopping options blossom

Perspective: Why home sellers may want to be wary of a potential buyer's pre-approval letter

New program offers down payment assistance for Montgomery County home buyers

Four steps to help you determine whether a mortgage refi will save you more than it will cost you