

What's News

North Korea
Tries to Launch Missile Amid
U.S. Tensions

The ballistic missile “blew up almost immediately” after it was fired, U.S. military officials said. The failed launch came less than a day after leader Kim Jong Un paraded a never-before-seen long-range missile through Pyongyang.

- North Korea Parades New Long-Range ‘Frankenmissile’
- As Koreans Simmer, Trump Hits Golf Course

On Pence’s Asia Visit,
Security Will Trump Trade

With North Korea escalating its nuclear-weapons program, shared security strategies are likely to overshadow economic demands as Vice President Mike Pence tours the Asia Pacific.

U.S., Afghan Forces Begin
Clean Up After Massive Blast

National security adviser H.R. McMaster arrived in Kabul, Afghanistan’s defense minister said, days after the U.S. military dropped the second-largest nonnuclear weapon in its arsenal on a cave complex in east Afghanistan.

- Trump Gives Generals More Freedom on ISIS

Wells Fargo Board Faces High-Stakes Vote Over Its Fate

Wells Fargo faces something few other big banks have dealt with since the financial crisis: a serious effort to vote out most of its directors.

THE SATURDAY ESSAY

The Profound Connection Between Easter and Passover

This year, Easter Sunday falls as the eight-day Jewish festival nears its end. In fact, Christianity’s most important day recapitulates Passover. Both holidays face head-on the daunting power of death—and both announce God’s greater power of life.

342

Turks Head to Polls in Constitutional Referendum

The Turks vote on whether to vastly expand powers of the president. Backers of the changes say they would strengthen the government at a dangerous time; critics warn they could set the country on the path to dictatorship.

- Vote to Broaden Erdogan’s Powers Is No Sure Thing
- What Happens if the Referendum Passes

Trump’s Companies Benefit From Campaign Funds

President Donald Trump’s re-election campaign and joint party committees continued to direct funds to his companies in the first quarter of the year, paying close to $500,000 to Trump-owned hotels, golf clubs and restaurants.

246

- Senate Democrats’ Fundraising Jumps Ahead of 2018 Race
- Trump, RNC Get Flood of Donations (April 6)

Cities Push Employers to Ignore Pay History of Job Applicants

OFF DUTY TRAVEL

A Mountain Getaway—in Minus 50 Degrees

Big Bets on Tiny Apartments

DNA Leads to Arrest in Killing of Jogger in Massachusetts

OBITUARY

Eugene Lang
Found Giving Money Wasn’t Enough

THE INTELLIGENT INVESTOR

Expensive Ingredient in ETFs

THE A-HED

Pinball Craftsman
Hits Bumpers
Building a Sought-After Machine

Off Duty

Markets

STYLE & FASHION

Seven Office Menswear Dilemmas—and How to Manage Them

As attire strictures have loosened in the past decade, corporate-fashion faux pas and the ensuing political fallout can be tougher to steer clear of than when tailored fare was the only thing on the menu. Here, some angsty issues and solid advice.

- Anything Maple Can Do, Sorghum Can, Too
- Push Past Pinot Grigio: Italy’s Unsung Whites
- Montauk Meets Malibu: Australia’s Eco-Chic Byron Bay

Calpers Is Sick Of Paying Too Much for Private Equity

The nation’s largest public pension fund is studying changes to how it invests in private equity that would slash payments to Wall Street managers, according to people familiar with the matter.

Commodities in Your Portfolio? It’s Hogwash,
Says Wall Street
Dissenter

With commodity prices at their highest level in years, Campbell Harvey, a Duke University finance professor, is itching to play the spoilsport again: He’s researching a new paper on the foolhardiness of commodities investing.

World

Jeon Ick-joo was abducted by police from his home in October. It took his wife months to learn his fate. Video: Eva Tam; photo: Jes Aznar for The Wall Street Journal

A Businessman’s Murder
Unmasks a Web of Violent
Police in the Philippines

The abduction and killing of an innocent South Korean executive in the Philippines has blossomed into a national scandal amid President Rodrigo Duterte’s war on drugs.

Fake News Tests Facebook
Ahead of French Vote

Facebook says it has ramped up efforts to curb misinformation, including removing accounts and labeling fake news. But video and images disseminating fake news are increasing faster, alongside delays in accrediting Facebook’s fact-checking partners.

Dozens Killed in Blast Near Syrian Evacuation Buses

A car bomb near Aleppo city targeted a convoy of buses carrying evacuees from two besieged towns, killing dozens of people, according to Syrian state media and rebels.

Fugitive Mexican Governor
Arrested in Guatemala

Javier Duarte, the fugitive governor of Veracruz state, was arrested in Guatemala on charges of racketeering and embezzlement after eluding authorities for nearly six months.

Business

U.S.

WEEK AHEAD

Glut of Vehicles, Uneven Demand Put Trucking Profits in the Crosshairs

More cargo is moving through U.S. ports and on the nation’s highways, but whether the added volumes will boost trucking profits is another matter.

Protesters March to Demand Release of Trump’s Tax Returns

Protesters took to the streets in dozens of cities nationwide, saying Americans deserve to know about his business ties and potential conflicts of interest.

82

Judge Halts Arkansas
Plan to Execute Eight
by April 30

A federal judge upended the state’s unprecedented plan to execute eight inmates in an 11-day period, saying the men have the right to challenge prison procedures that could expose them to “severe pain.”

ESSAY

Learning to Love Intelligent Machines

Twenty years after famously losing to Deep Blue, chess champion Garry Kasparov says that it’s time to embrace AI and its liberating potential.

EVERYDAY MATH

Always Hungry? A
Mathematical Explanation

A famous thought experiment on the subject of infinity speaks to the feeling of never being full.

WEEKEND CONFIDENTIAL

David McCullough’s History
Lessons

The author on how learning about the past can serve as an antidote to self-importance and self-pity.

Markets

U.S. EUROPE ASIA FX RATES FUTURES

ID
5D 3M
6M
1Y

DJIA

S&P 500
Nasdaq
Russell 2000
DJ Total Mkt

Opinion

How Trump Is Like Early Giuliani

By James Taranto | The Weekend Interview

Trump’s Weak-Dollar Temptation

Review & Outlook

Every Public-School Student in Arizona Will Get a Chance at Choice

By Jonathan Butcher | Cross Country

Follow @WSJ

Sign Up for Newsletters and Alerts

Recommended Videos

- North Korea Parades ‘Frankenmissile’ Amid Tension With U.S.
- Thousands Evacuated From Besieged Syrian Towns
- The ‘Mother of All Bombs’: Fast Facts
- Why U.S. Dropped ‘Mother of All Bombs’ on ISIS
- Why a Staff ‘Shake-up’ Poses Challenges for President Trump

Most Popular Articles

- Amid U.S. Tensions, North Korea Shows Off ‘Frankenmissile’
- Trump Grants Generals More Freedom on ISIS
- The Profound Connection Between Easter and Passover
- A Businessman’s Murder Unmasks a Web of Violent Police in the Philippines
- North Korea Tries to Launch Missile Amid U.S. Tensions

Journal Reports

Is It a Good Idea for Adults to Take a Daily Multivitamin?

Some doctors say multivitamins can help make up for the nutritional shortcomings of Americans’ diets. Others say multivitamins are an ineffective solution for that problem.

Can Consumers Be Smart Health-Care Shoppers?

Podcast: How to Get Children to Eat Vegetables at School

The 10-Point

The 10-Point: Gerard Baker on Trump’s policy reversals, banks managing expectations, languishing high-end homes and more.

SIGN UP →

Capital Journal Daybreak

WSJ’s Gerald F. Seib explains the likely

Batnaya, a Christian town in Iraq’s Kurdistan region, was badly damaged by fighting between Islamic State and Kurdish Peshmerga forces. Photo: EWTN News Nightly

ESSAY

For Iraqi Christians After Islamic State, Hope Amid the Ruins

When Islamic State jihadists took over swathes of Iraq in 2014, between 100,000 and 120,000 Christians reportedly fled. The author, recently returned from Iraq’s Kurdistan region, describes both heartbreaking damage and signs of resilience.

Video

SIGN UP →

A Timeline of Erdogan's Rise to Power as Turkey Votes on Referendum 4:29

Why a Staff 'Shake-up' Poses Challenges for President Trump 2:32

Iraqi Christians Endure Amid Fighting, Persecution 3:17

World →

Trump Grants Generals More Freedom on ISIS

Turkey Prepares to Vote as Referendum Campaign Ends

Fugitive Mexican Ex-Governor Had State Security While on the Run

Economy →

Economic Gains Elusive Despite Strong Confidence

U.S. Treasury Stops Short of Calling China a Currency Manipulator

Stanford's Dave Donaldson Wins John Bates Clark Medal

Markets →

Rising Anxiety Fuels Market About-Face

Retreat of 'Reflation Trade' Leaves Markets Less Crowded

How Uncle Sam Divvies Up $100 of Your Taxes

U.S. →

Maine Seeks to Link Work to Medicaid

Rulings Derail Arkansas's Plan to Execute Eight Men by Month's End

Jury Finds Aaron Hernandez Not Guilty of Double Murder

Business →

Chinese Aluminum Giant Faces Fraud Allegations, Credit Squeeze

Under Armour Paid $73 Million to CEO's Businesses

As Solar-Panel Prices Fall, Leasing Model Loses Market Share

Real Estate →

High-End Homes for Sale...for Years

5 Best-in-Show Trends at the 2017 Milan Furniture Fair

Aspen Mountain Property Asks $40 Million

Politics →

Senate Democrats' Fundraising Jumps

Health-Law Impasse Puts Squeeze on Congress

Trump's Sanctuary City Order Faces First Test in Court

Tech →

Apple Gets California Permit to Test Autonomous Vehicles

Hacker Group Says U.S. Tried to Breach Money-Transfer System

Uber Posted $2.8 Billion Loss Last Year

Sports →

A Marathon Newbie, Rupp Looks to Break Through In Boston

Confessions of a Zwift Addict

The NBA Player Who Is Technically Perfect

PAID PROGRAM

Photos

Photos of the Day: April 13

Gallery 1 of 7

Life →

OFF DUTY TRAVEL

Montauk Meets Malibu: Australia's Eco-Chic Byron Bay

Byron Bay is a hippie beach town turned haute getaway spot. A guide on where to stay, eat, swim, kayak and sip Aperol spritzes by the pool.

FAST FIVE

5 Chic and Child-Friendly Easter Baskets

Italy's Unsung White Wines

DESIGN & DECORATION

13 Designers Recall Their Craziest Childhood Decorating Experiments

Arts →

FILM REVIEW

'The Fate of the Furious': Nothing Good Under the Hood

The latest entry in the high-horsepower series goes nowhere in a vrooming hurry, Joe Morgenstern writes.

- More Reviews: 'The Lost City of Z' | 'Graduation' | 'Truman' | 'Tommy's Honour'

Film Clip: 'The Fate of the Furious'

'The White Princess' Review: The Women Behind the Throne

Remington Meets Hollywood: An Exhibition on the Western

'Oslo' Review: Getting Them in the Room

CMO →

Storm Lake Times Pulitzer Highlights Decline of Family Papers

CMO Today: Google Shuts Down Burger King Ad Stunt

CIO →

What Your CEO Is Reading: Overvalued Shareholders; Artificial Limits; Electrodes for Your Face

Ex-Pentagon CIO to Advise Sec of Defense on Cyber

CFO →

Trade Rules, U.S. Policy Stymie Reshoring Efforts

Small U.S. Manufacturers Struggle to Bring Jobs Back Home

Risk & Compliance →

Corruption Currents: U.S. Ponders North Korean Oil Embargo

The Morning Risk Report: Beware Bias Risks Associated With AI

Snap Wants to Help Brands Track When Ads Drive People to Locations

RWJBarnabas CISO Rethinks Cybersecurity for Age of Connected Medical Devices

Logistics Report

Glut of Vehicles, Uneven Demand Put Trucking Profits in the Crosshairs

Asia Becomes Bright Spot in Global Trade as Exports Rebound

Today's Top Supply Chain and Logistics News From WSJ

Delta to Keep Loyalty Program In-House, May Disclose More Info

Barron's NEXT

Good News and Bad News for Netflix

5 Companies to Watch This Earnings Season

Why Tesla's Cars Cost 50% More in China

U.S. Puts Sanctions on Alleged Islamic State Facilitators

MarketWatch

This is what American teenagers want to be when they grow up

The Olsen twins' debacle may have made free internships a thing of the past

Most millennials don't want to pay for Netflix

Mansion Global

Independent of The Wall Street Journal newsroom.

A Parisian Neighborhood for Affluent and Influential Families

The Listings of the Week: A Villa in Malibu Hills, a Disney-Style Castle in France and More

MLB's Matt Kemp's California Home Goes to Auction – With a Charitable Twist

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

U.S. Edition

WSJ Membership

WSJ+ Membership Benefits

Digital Subscription

Print Subscription

Print and Digital Subscription

Why Subscribe?

Download WSJ Apps for iOS and Android

Corporate Subscriptions

Professor Journal

Student Journal

Customer Service

Customer Center

Contact Us

Live Help

Redesign Guided Tour

Notice to Subscribers

Tools & Features

Emails & Alerts

Guides

My News

RSS Feeds

Topics

Video Center

Watchlist

Podcasts

Ads

Advertise

Advertise Locally

Commercial Real Estate Ads

Place a Classified Ad

Sell Your Business

Sell Your Home

Recruitment & Career Ads

More

Content

Correction

Jobs at WSJ

News Alerts

Register

Reprints

Facebook

Twitter

LinkedIn

Google+

YouTube

Podcasts

Snapchat

Android App on Google Play

Apple App Store

Windows 10

Dow Jones Products

Private Markets

Barron's

realtor.com

BigCharts

Risk & Compliance

DJX

WSJ Conference

Dow Jones Newswires

WSJ Pro Central Banking

Factiva

Financial News

Mansion Global

WSJ Video

MarketWatch

WSJ Wine