

The Washington Post

Democracy Dies in Darkness

Violent police

Within Trump’s inner circle, a moderate voice captures the president’s ear

Gary Cohn, director of the National Economic Council and former president of Goldman Sachs, raises his profile by strengthening his reputation as a dealmaker.

By Damian Paletta

Establishment says Trump becoming a ‘conventional Republican’

Trump signs bill allowing states to strip federal family-planning funds from abortion providers

Abortion-rights advocates said the rule would deny as many as 4 million Americans access to birth control and other family-planning services.

By Juliet Eilperin

EPA halts Obama-era rule aimed at curbing toxic wastewater from coal plants

The regulation went into effect in 2015, but the energy industry has appealed to the Trump administration to revisit it.

By Brady Dennis

Maria Placencia, her husband, Jesus Mora, and their children bring groceries across the storm-damaged Highway 1 Pfeiffer Canyon Bridge on the way to their home in Big Sur, Calif. (AP)

Big Sur usually can’t keep people away. Right now, it’s practically deserted.

Heavy rains in California cut off part of the main highway, bringing sudden isolation, frustration and bliss to residents of the scenic stretch of coast.

By Sara Solovitch

U.S. hits ISIS targets with largest non-nuclear bomb ever used in combat

The commander of U.S. forces in Afghanistan said the bomb was “the right munition” to use against the Islamic State because of the group’s use of roadside bombs, bunkers and tunnels.

By Thomas Gibbons-Neff and Erin Cunningham

Opinions

We don’t know where Trump stands. Neither does he.

By Eugene Robinson

The Great Reversal — for now

By Charles Krauthammer

Trump gets a taste of success

By David Ignatius

Liberals have to avoid Trump Derangement Syndrome

By Fareed Zakaria

Why should college students let their enemies speak? Naked self-interest.

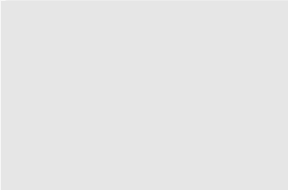

By Catherine Rampell

Trump’s recent flip-flops are something to (cautiously) celebrate

Editorial Board

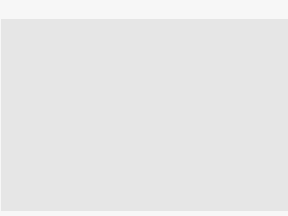

More Top Stories

Republican House leader avoids selling GOP health-care plan at home

When faced with a crowd of angry constituents in his district this week, Rep. Greg Walden of Oregon seemed reluctant to claim the legislation as his own. Instead, he stressed parts of the Affordable Care Act that he’d keep.

By Paige Winfield Cunningham

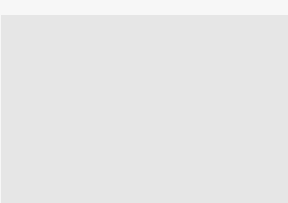

United passenger: Dragging incident more horrifying than fleeing Vietnam

David Dao will need reconstructive surgery after suffering a serious concussion, broken nose, two missing teeth and other injuries when he was dragged off a United flight at O’Hare International Airport on Sunday, his lawyer said.

By Lori Aratani

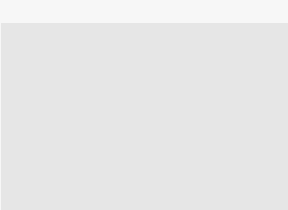

Lawyer says passenger will ‘probably’ sue

Canada poised to legalize recreational marijuana use nationwide

A plan to legalize marijuana by July 2018 is widely expected to become law, but it would leave the details of implementation, including commercial regulations, to individual provinces.

By Christopher Ingraham

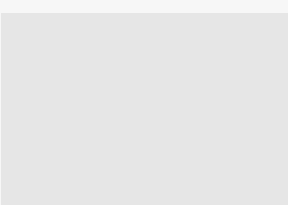

Perspective

Mary Magdalene has spent two millennia maligned as a prostitute. It’s time for that myth to end.

In some ways, Mary Magdalene’s story is that of modern women everywhere who dare to work among men as equals and are then sexualized and marginalized. Now there’s a social media campaign to end the shaming.

By Petula Dvorak

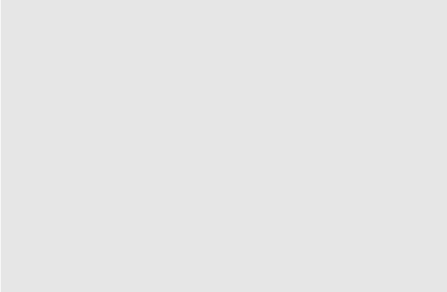

‘Ready to pay’: Marine taken away in shackles after pleading guilty to lying in sexual misconduct case

Maj. Mark Thompson falsely claimed for years that he did not have sex with two students at the Naval Academy. “I should have faced the entire truth,” he said Thursday. “I’m exhausted, broken in spirit and ready to pay what I owe.”

By Ann E. Marimow and John Woodrow Cox

“Almost all democratic rights are wiped out.”

— Mutlu Koçak

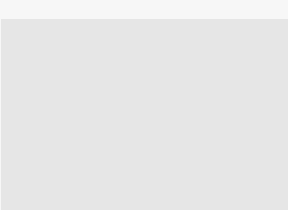

(AFP/Getty Images)

How Erdogan has reshaped Turkey, as told by readers

On Sunday, voters in Turkey will decide whether to give President Recep Tayyip Erdogan sweeping new powers. We asked readers around the globe how Turkey has changed since Erdogan came to power.

By Washington Post Staff

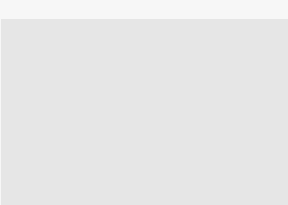

Türkçe oku

Thousands expected in D.C. for Tax Day protest calling for Trump to release his personal returns

Saturday’s Tax March on the Mall — which falls on the nation’s traditional April 15 deadline to file taxes — is expected to be the largest of more than 100 affiliated protests planned across the country.

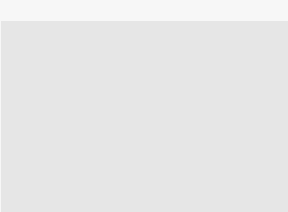

By Perry Stein

Georgia county fires officer captured on video kicking handcuffed man in the head

Robert McDonald — who was responding to a call to assist another officer in a struggle — “just got tunnel vision,” Gwinnett County Police Chief Butch Ayers said Thursday.

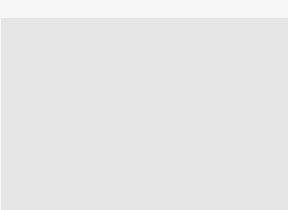

By Peter Holley and Lindsey Bever

GAO launches probe of Trump transition’s spending, fundraising and foreign communications

Sen. Elizabeth Warren and Rep. Elijah E. Cummings had asked the nonpartisan Government Accountability Office to review the transition’s practices in late November, citing rising concerns about conflicts of interest between Donald Trump’s about-to-be leadership of the government and his private business activities.

By Elise Viebeck

U.S.-led coalition accidentally bombs Syrian allies, killing 18

The airstrike earlier this week marks the worst confirmed friendly-fire incident in the nearly three-year-old war against the terrorist group. The coalition said in a statement that the strike was requested by “partnered forces” near the town of Tabqa who accidentally targeted a group of Kurdish and Arab fighters.

By Thomas Gibbons-Neff

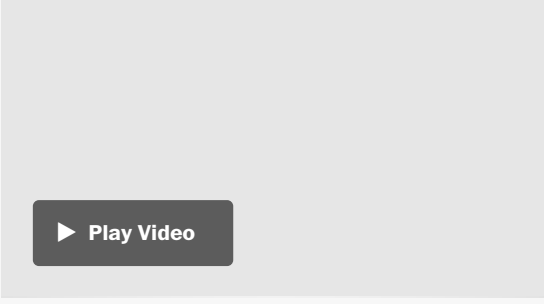

Share news tips with us confidentially

Do you have information the public should know? Here are some ways you can securely send information and documents to Post journalists.

Learn more »

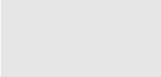

Visual

Video

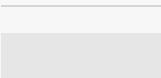

(Claritza Jimenez/The Washington Post)

What we know about the Paris airport attack

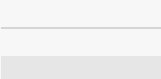

Trump’s policy flip-flops grow

Play Video 3:11

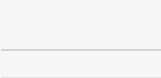

Everything you need to know about the new Internet privacy rules

Play Video 3:28

The game of nations: The key to understanding Trump’s foreign policy

Play Video 2:31

Protesters urge South African president to resign

Play Video 3:56

Most Read

1 U.S. military drops 22,000-pound bomb on Islamic State forces in Afghanistan

2 Within Trump’s inner circle, a moderate voice captures the president’s ear

3 What restaurant inspectors found wrong in Trump’s Mar-a-Lago kitchen

4 U.S.-led coalition accidentally bombs Syrian allies, killing 18

5 United passenger: Dragging incident more horrifying than when he fled Vietnam

Today’s Paper

Today’s print stories

View e-Replica edition

Market Watch

DJIA -0.67% NASDAQ -0.53%

Co. name or symbol

Last Update: 4:15 PM 04/14/2017(DJIA&NASDAQ)

Get quote

Live Discussions

Show more

Weekly schedule, past shows

E-book

Pulitzer Prize-winning reporting: Uncovering Trump

In February 2016, presidential candidate Donald Trump promised $6 million in donations, including $1 million from his own pocket, to charities along his campaign trail. But by the time he won the New Hampshire primary, he had stopped giving away money and had donated far less than his pledged amount. Post reporter David A. Fahrenthold went in search of the missing money and found a bigger story than he ever expected.

Diversions

Comics Eggz
Crosswords Horoscopes
Mah Jongg Solitaire
Sudoku TV listings

From Our Advertisers

Content from Sub-Zero
Wasted Yet Wanted

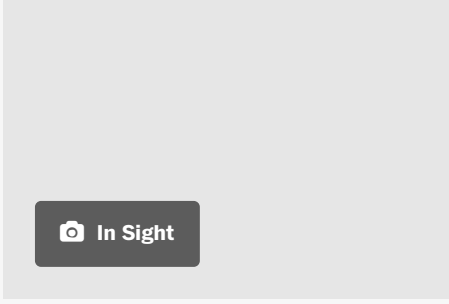

Content from NAREIT
REITS connect your world

Content from Wells Fargo
Gifting equity in a home

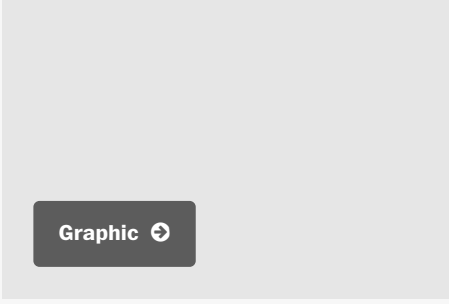

In Sight

(Jeffrey Wolin)

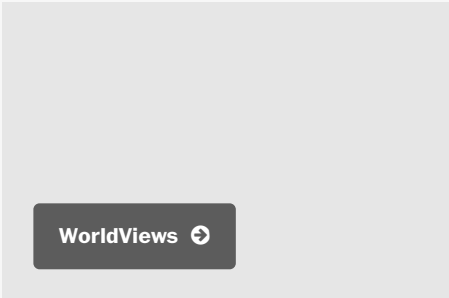

See what 20 years did to the impoverished residents of Pigeon Hill

Graphic

(Samuel Granados/Post)

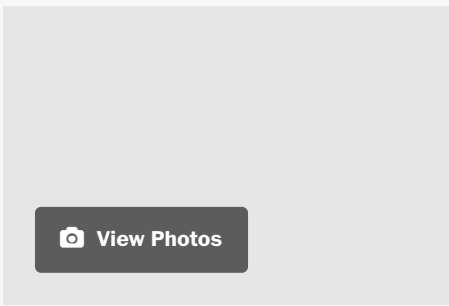

Why Trump's wall contradicts today's immigration trends

WorldViews

(Max Bearak and Laris Karklis/Post)

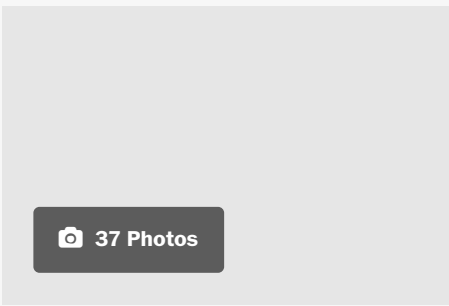

20 million people are at risk of starving to death. Here's how it got so bad.

View Photos

(Carlos Barria/Reuters)

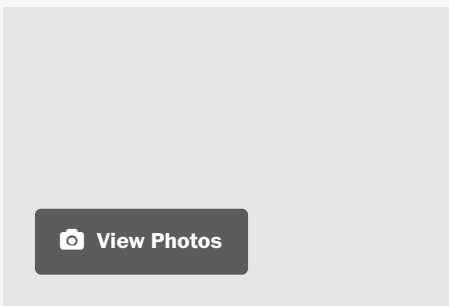

Here are 29 of the week's best photos

37 Photos

(NASA/JPL-Caltech/SWER/MSS/Roman Tkachenko via AFP/Getty)

Wisps of Jupiter's atmosphere and more photos of our solar system and beyond

View Photos

(Wong Maye-E/AP)

What life looks like inside North Korea

Politics

Thousands expected for Tax Day march calling for Trump to release his returns

Trump's First 100 Days: What we don't know about the strike in Afghanistan

Within Trump's inner circle, a moderate voice captures the president's ear

Analysis
Trump soon faces some of his most consequential appointments yet

World

Mexican narcos drop bodies, and warnings, from the skies

U.S. military drops 22,000-pound bomb on Islamic State forces in Afghanistan

While the U.S. wasn't looking, Russia and Iran began carving out a bigger role in Afghanistan

U.S.-led coalition accidentally bombs Syrian allies, killing 18

National

Detroit-area doctor charged with performing genital mutilation on girls

Trump administration halts Obama-era rule aimed at curbing toxic wastewater from coal plants

After 63 feet of snow, Northern California mountains break record for wettest water year

Investigation finds 'credible evidence' of sexual harassment at Yellowstone

PostEverything

Perspective
Our economy is a hellscape for consumers. The United flier is the latest victim.

Perspective
Trump fought the Blob and the Blob won. Why?

Perspective
This is how the Russian media covered the missile strikes in Syria

Perspective
Bollywood could bring feminism to the masses. Why doesn't it?

Local

'Highest levels of chaos' impair D.C. veterans hospital, inspector general finds

PM Update: Classic springtime weather through Friday

Distinguished homes for sale in the D.C. region

Maryland Democrats file complaint over email about Hogan fundraiser

Sports

Transferring Memphis player burns every possible bridge on his way out

Perspective
Capitals 'pucker' up but don't kiss Game 1 goodbye

Kevin Gausman finds his groove as Orioles extend Blue Jays' misery

Analysis
Three takeaways from Capitals' Game 1 overtime win over Maple Leafs

Lifestyle

Perspective
NY Post warns of the perils of dating 'hot women.' Here are 20 other types to avoid.

Katie Holmes and Jamie Foxx have decided to reveal the thing we all know

Analysis
Odd couple: Rachel Maddow and Roger Ailes are surprisingly friendly

Perspective
Carolyn Hax: C'mon, a good therapist can handle a controlling person, right?

Arts

Perspective
How cartoonists are ridiculing Sean Spicer's Hitler comments

Lesley Nneka Arimah's debut story collection is vibrant and fresh

'Everybody in comedy is heartbroken': Dave Chappelle pays tribute to Charlie Murphy

In the galleries: Medicine chests as a medium for reflection

Technology

This guy wouldn't stop robo-calling the do-not-call list. Now he's paying for it.

The government just wrapped a major auction that'll shape the future of the Internet

Burger King: Connected Whopper

Perspective
What Google and Facebook must do about one of their biggest problems

Business

How Trump supporters feel about his surprise China flip-flop

Obama's 'clean coal' investments are now helping Trump officials push fossil fuels

Perspective
80 Philly businesses are now accepting 'iBuyBlack' discount card

Read the latest from Capital Business

Federal Government

Trump can start cutting the federal workforce right now

Perspective
USPS agrees to $49 million settlement after having long 'dawdled' in payments to beneficiaries

Perspective
Feds' best places to work might not be so good for long

Perspective
EPA staffer leaves with a bang, blasting agency policies under Trump

Real Estate

Newly designed co-living apartments in D.C. bring sophistication to group housing

Mortgage rates fall to their lowest levels of the year

Sales to begin soon on new 123-unit luxury condos in downtown McLean

In D.C.'s Shepherd Park, residents are close to downtown — and each other

Digital Products Terms of Sale	Home Delivery	Help & Contact Info	In the Community
Print Products Terms of Sale	Digital Subscription	Reader Representative	Careers
Terms of Service	Gift Subscriptions	Advertise	PostPoints
Privacy Policy	Mobile & Apps	News Service Syndicate	Newspaper in Education
Submissions and Discussion Policy	Newsletters & Alerts		Digital Publishing Guidelines
RSS Terms of Service	Washington Post Live		Today's Paper
Ad Choices	Reprints & Permissions		WP BrandStudio
	Post Store		Events
	Photo Store
	e-Replica		