

China warns U.S., North Korea to ratchet down escalating tensions

The Chinese foreign minister urged Washington and Pyongyang not to push their recriminations to a point of no return that would allow war to break out on the Korean Peninsula. If such hostilities occur, the two nations must bear the historical responsibility and “pay the corresponding price,” he warned.

By Anna Fifield

WorldViews Analysis

A timeline of North Korea’s five nuclear tests and how the U.S. has responded

Analysts worry that Kim Jong Un is planning a “big,” provocative show of military force this weekend.

By Amanda Erickson

Trump delights in watching the U.S. military display its strength

As the president looks for a coherent foreign policy, he has applauded the use of a massive bomb on Islamic State forces in Afghanistan and a missile attack on a Syrian air base.

By Greg Jaffe and Jenna Johnson

Far-right candidate Marine Le Pen arrives at a campaign event in Pordic, France. (Michael Robinson Chavez/The Post)

Marine Le Pen wants to kill the E.U., but it bankrolls much of her crusade

Many of the fringe political parties pledging to upend the 28-nation bloc are receiving hundreds of thousands of euros every year from the European Union itself.

By Michael Birnbaum

The Daily 202 Analysis

Trump’s lack of historical context makes his on-the-job training harder

The president has committed several gaffes tailor-made to go viral on social media, but he has also said things that underscore his shallow understanding of events preceding him.

By James Hohmann

Opinions

Is rationality dawning on Trump?

By Ruth Marcus

‘Fearless Girl’ and ‘Charging Bull’ are more alike than you’d think

By Christine Emba

Yes, Rex Tillerson, U.S. taxpayers should care about Ukraine. Here’s why.

By Anne Applebaum

United Airlines’ bad week won’t matter — and we have ourselves to blame

By Chris Sagers

The hero of ‘The Lost City of Z’ was no hero

By Hugh Thomson

Marine Le Pen’s loathsome rewriting of Holocaust history

Editorial Board

More Top Stories

Arkansas judge prohibits state from using lethal injection drug, blocking series of scheduled executions

Under the judge’s order, Arkansas officials are barred from using one of the three drugs it planned to use in lethal injections, effectively prohibiting them from carrying out several executions set to begin next week.

By Mark Berman

- Drug companies demand lethal injection drugs back
- Arkansas Supreme Court stays one of the state’s 7 scheduled executions

Republicans may not want to end Obamacare payments

The GOP — in control of Congress and the White House — is well aware that the public is likely to blame the party for premium increases after it has so far failed to put forth an agreeable health-care replacement plan.

By Paige Winfield Cunningham

How Trump is — and is not — changing what it means to be American

In El Cajon, Calif., new immigrants from Iraq, Syria, Afghanistan and Mexico are taught that being American means being empathetic, honoring differences — and never calling anyone fat.

By Abigail Hauslohner

Even Canadians are skipping trips to America after Trump travel ban

From hostels to major hotel chains, tour group operators to outfits that cater to business travelers, the toll of President Trump’s proposals has been swift on the nation’s tourism industry. Some say long-term damage has been done. One industry expert pegs the projected lost revenue for 2017 at $7.4 billion.

By Abha Bhattarai

‘Houston, we have a problem’: The history of the iconic Apollo 13 misquote

The famous phrase has a backstory so good that it, of course, also turns out to be not quite true.

By Michael S. Rosenwald

Trump to nominate vocal critic to head Export-Import Bank, casting uncertainty on agency’s future

The bank, which supports U.S. exporters, is despised by some conservatives, who forced it to remain effectively dormant for nearly two years. The president’s appointments could allow the bank to resume lending in earnest — but his nominee has worked to shutter the agency.

By Max Ehrenfreund and Ana Swanson

Trump to discontinue Obama policy of voluntarily releasing White House visitor logs

The administration cited “grave national security risks and privacy concerns” to disclosing the names, saying it would release information only under far more limited circumstances. The White House will decide whether to disclose the names of people coming to meet with the president, vice president and their senior staff.

By John Wagner

Former Patriots tight end Aaron Hernandez is acquitted of double murder

The 27-year-old has been accused of shooting two men over an alleged nightclub altercation. The prosecution’s key witness was Hernandez’s former friend and marijuana supplier.

By Marissa Payne and Des Bieler

Alleged ‘sadistic hazing rituals’ prompt arrest of 13 male athletes in Texas town

At least 10 people in a town of 1,200 have detailed stories of “initiations” that included sodomy and sexual abuse by teammates, a lawsuit and police reports allege.

By Katie Mettler

Share news tips with us confidentially

Do you have information the public should know? Here are some ways you can securely send information and documents to Post journalists.

Learn more »

In Sight

(Ken Cedeno)

This floating medical clinic

Graphic

(The Post)

How realistic are New York

Video

Play Video

(Claritza Jimenez/The Washington Post)

What we know about the Paris airport attack

The game of nations: The key to understanding Trump’s foreign policy

Play Video 2:31

Ten years later, a look back at how the Virginia Tech massacre unfolded

Play Video 2:50

What’s behind Trump’s growing flip-flops

Play Video 3:11

Everything you need to know about the new Internet privacy rules

Play Video 3:28

Most Read

1

Analysis

A timeline of North Korea’s five nuclear tests and how the U.S. has responded

2

Trump delights in watching the U.S. military display its strength

3

China issues stern warning to U.S., North Korea over their growing tensions

4

Melania Trump seemed like a rebellious first lady. She’s turning out to be a retro one.

5

The Daily 202: Trump doesn’t know much about history. It’s making his on-the-job training harder.

Today’s Paper

Today’s print stories

View e-Replica edition

Market Watch

DJIA -0.67% NASDAQ -0.53%

Co. name or symbol

Last Update: 04/15/2017(DJIA&NASDAQ)

Get quote

Live Discussions

Weekly schedule, past shows

E-book

Pulitzer Prize-winning reporting: Uncovering Trump

In February 2016, presidential candidate Donald Trump promised $6 million in donations, including $1 million from his own pocket, to charities along his campaign trail. But by the time he won the New Hampshire primary, he had stopped giving away money and had donated far less than his pledged amount. Post reporter David A. Fahrenthold went in search of the missing money and found a bigger story than he ever expected.

Diversions

Comics

Eggz

Crosswords

Horoscopes

Mah Jongg

Solitaire

Sudoku

TV listings

From Our Advertisers

Content from Sub-Zero
Wasted Yet Wanted

Content from NAREIT
REITS connect your world

Content from Wells Fargo
Gifting equity in a home offers a lifeline for the indigenous poor of the Amazon apartments on TV shows?

(Samuel Granados/Post)

Why Trump’s wall contradicts today’s immigration trends

(Gali Tibbon/Getty Images)

Here are 25 of the week’s best photos

(NASA/JPL-Caltech/SWER/MSS/Roman Tkachenko via AFP/Getty)

Wisps of Jupiter’s atmosphere and more photos of our solar system and beyond

(Wong Maye-E/AP)

What life looks like inside North Korea

Politics  Trump wants to give the rich a big tax cut. Here’s what his supporters want. After 20 years, inmate apologizes for school shooting Trump’s reelection stockpile grows as small donors keep giving Trump delights in watching the U.S. military display its strength	World  Some in Afghanistan question U.S. choice to use 22,000-pound bomb against ISIS Analysis A timeline of North Korea’s five nuclear tests and how the U.S. has responded Marine Le Pen wants to kill the European Union. But it actually helps pay her bills. China issues stern warning to U.S., North Korea over their growing tensions	National  Some vitamins and minerals may carry more risks than benefits Enslaved man who helped build U-Va. has a building named for him Fugitive who mailed antigovernment manifesto to Trump has been captured, authorities say Explosion at University of Idaho sends four students to the hospital	PostEverything  Perspective People don’t like paying taxes. That’s because they don’t understand them. Perspective The ‘Mother of All Bombs’ isn’t that big. Why did it unsettle us so much? On the Fifth Day Perspective Trump fought the Blob and the Blob won. Why?	Local  ‘Highest levels of chaos’ impair D.C. veterans hospital, inspector general finds Enslaved man who helped build U-Va. has a building named for him Firefighters battle blaze at popular Fish in the Hood restaurant in Northwest Maryland’s student sports-radio station needed to raise more money. Enter Scott Van Pelt.	Sports  Wizards’ Ernie Grunfeld remained patient. And now he’s reaping the results. Orioles hit four homers to power past Blue Jays Kristaps Porzingis’s frustration with Knicks reportedly led to skipping exit meetings Devin McCourty says he doesn’t agree with Trump, will skip Patriots’ White House visit	Lifestyle  5 questions for a Washington Post reporter whose eyebrows became a meme Melania Trump seemed like a rebellious first lady. She’s turning out to be a retro one. Perspective HBO’s ‘Girls’ goes out as the one thing it always wanted to be: A good TV show Perspective Carolyn Hax: A husband who’s headed toward obesity and health problems	Arts  Jake Tapper achieves a childhood dream by drawing for the new book ‘MAD About Trump’ Anne Lamott: ‘I just think mercy is our only hope’ Perspective Justin Peck, Misty Copeland curate ‘Ballet Across America’ series She said, he said: journalist accuses Woodward of ‘breathtaking betrayal.’	Technology  Apple is finally going to test self-driving cars California regulator cites Uber, alleging lax handling of drunk drivers Facebook fights fake news online with full-page print newspaper ads The government just wrapped a major auction that’ll shape the future of the Internet	Business  Perspective Yes, all debt is bad debt Former adviser warns Trump: ‘A weak dollar is a weak president’ Only 2 of the 300 case studies read by first-year Harvard Business School students include black executives Read the latest from Capital Business	Federal Government  Perspective Trump gets a VA headache: ‘serious deficiencies’ at D.C. hospital Trump can start cutting the federal workforce right now	Real Estate  Capitol Hill house gets its unique look from a variety of architectural styles Mortgage rates fall to their lowest levels of the year Newly designed co-living apartments in D.C. bring sophistication to group housing
---	---	--	--	--	--	--	--	---	---	---	---

Perspective
USPS agrees to $49 million settlement after having long ‘dawdled’ in payments to beneficiaries

In D.C.’s Shepherd Park, residents are close to downtown — and each other

Perspective
Feds’ best places to work might not be so good for long

- Terms of Use
- Digital Products Terms of Sale
 - Print Products Terms of Sale
 - Terms of Service
 - Privacy Policy
 - Submissions and Discussion Policy
 - RSS Terms of Service
 - Ad Choices

- Get Us
- Home Delivery
 - Digital Subscription
 - Gift Subscriptions
 - Mobile & Apps
 - Newsletters & Alerts
 - Washington Post Live
 - Reprints & Permissions
 - Post Store
 - Photo Store
 - e-Replica

- Contact Us
- Help & Contact Info
 - Reader Representative
 - Advertise
 - News Service Syndicate

- About Us
- In the Community
 - Careers
 - PostPoints
 - Newspaper in Education
 - Digital Publishing Guidelines
 - Today's Paper
 - WP BrandStudio
 - Events