

United

Trump calls Turkey’s Erdogan to congratulate him on contested vote

According to Turkish officials, President Trump’s comments differed in tone from those of the State Department, which urged Turkey to respect the rights of its citizens and noted election irregularities observed during the referendum. The two leaders also agreed that Syria’s president should be held accountable for his actions, a Turkish statement said.

By Carol Morello

Trump officials turn to courts to block Obama-era legacy

While past presidents have used similar tactics, the Trump administration has an expanded strategy to stop federal judges from ruling on a broad array of regulations to give federal agencies time to revise or shrink the previous rules.

By Steven Mufson and Juliet Eilperin

Making his debut on the Supreme Court, Gorsuch jumps right in

While hearing his first oral arguments as a member of the high court, Neil Gorsuch was unusually active for a new justice, asking more questions — 22 — than any of his fellow justices did at their initial appearances.

By Robert Barnes

Former Fox News contributor Wendy Walsh; Bill O'Reilly. (AP)

Fighting for his career, O'Reilly contests harassment charge from radio personality

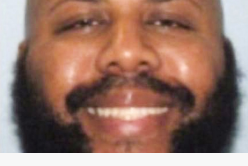

The future of Bill O'Reilly’s long career as a Fox News host may hinge on the accusation raised by Wendy Walsh, who alleged he retaliated against her when she rebuffed his advances.

By Paul Farhi

Facebook wanted ‘visceral’ live video. It’s getting live-streaming killers and suicides.

The latest shocking example of the live-video service’s dark side came over the weekend when a man broadcast video of him fatally shooting a bystander in Cleveland. The incident sparked a new round of questions about whether the social network should do more to prevent violent videos from reaching millions of people.

By Elizabeth Dwoskin and Craig Timberg

- National manhunt underway for suspect in Facebook homicide video

Opinions

Trump’s administration doesn’t understand the meaning of power

By Michael Gerson

Trump’s cake and golf presidency

By Eugene Robinson

Meet the new Trump . . . same as the old Trump?

By Richard Cohen

Sorry, Republicans, but most people support single-payer health care

By Catherine Rampell

Trump’s no populist. He’s a swamp monster.

By Dana Milbank

Legislation to end rapists’ parental rights dies in Maryland — for the ninth time

Editorial Board

More Top Stories

After a series of flip-flops, Trump prepares to deliver on a key pledge

The president is expected to sign an executive order that the White House said will make it harder to replace American tech workers with foreign labor and give U.S. firms an advantage in bidding for government contracts.

By Tracy Jan and Max Ehrenfreund

- Spicer: Obama engaged in ‘faux’ transparency with visitor logs release

The great dairy trade war that will test President Trump

An increasingly acrimonious dispute with Canada over the price of ultrafiltered milk has already caused more than $150 million in losses at 75 U.S. family farms and highlights the difficulties Trump would face in trying to renegotiate the North American Free Trade Agreement.

By Caitlin Dewey

Analysis

Trump has spent 1 out of every 5 minutes of his presidency in Palm Beach

On seven of the 13 weekends he has been president, Trump has spent time at Mar-a-Lago, usually slipping away from the resort to head to one of his nearby golf courses to play a round.

By Philip Bump

- Poll finds that the number of Americans who think Trump keeps his promises is plummeting

Arkansas Supreme Court blocks planned executions, prompting state challenge

Arkansas officials and death-row inmates fought in state and federal court over the eight lethal injections scheduled to take place over an 11-day window, a pace unmatched in the modern era.

By Mark Berman

Within a Georgia House race lies a GOP identity crisis and an opportunity for Democrats

As 11 GOP candidates feuded over what it means to be a Republican in the age of Trump, the splintered field has raised the possibility that Democrats could pick up a seat in Tuesday’s special election.

By Robert Costa

The Past, Retropolis Rediscovered

She was attacked 50 years ago for being a woman in the Boston Marathon. On Monday, she ran it again at 70.

At 20, Kathrine Switzer broke a gender barrier and forever changed running.

By Kelyn Soong

- Kenyans take top spots in 121st Boston Marathon

Hallmarks of Soviet postwar building boom are finally meeting their demise

The Khrushchev-era buildings were part of one of the greatest urbanization pushes in history. Now they may be part of the greatest urban demolition project in history.

By Andrew Roth

South Koreans are dealing with a new wild card — Trump

They have lived in a technical state of war with their hostile neighbor for decades, but President Trump’s unpredictability has added even more uncertainty.

By Yoonjung Seo and Anna Fifield

Perspective

‘This isn’t about politics’: At Trump’s first Easter Egg Roll, a welcome spirit of civility

The White House Easter Egg Roll, with a rich tradition that dates back to 1878, transcended polarizing politics for the parents and children who descended on the South Lawn.

By Petula Dvorak

- 21,000 gather at the White House as egg roll goes off without a hitch

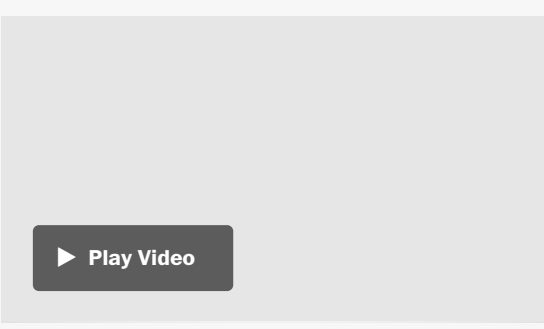

Share news tips with us confidentially

Do you have information the public should know? Here are some ways you can securely send information and documents to Post journalists.

Learn more »

Visual Stories

Video

(/The Washington Post)

Police hunt for Cleveland Facebook killer

Trump’s leadership, temperament questioned in new poll results

► Play Video 1:29

Police hunt for Cleveland Facebook killer

► Play Video 2:00

Administration officials, lawmakers react after failed North Korean missile launch

► Play Video 2:03

April the giraffe finally gives birth

► Play Video 2:52

Most Read

1 In the fight of his career, O'Reilly's side swings back on harassment charge

2 Opinion This brutal new poll shows that fewer and fewer people believe Trump's lies

3 After a series of flip-flops, Trump prepares to deliver on a key campaign pledge

4 Scientists find giant, elusive clam known as 'the unicorn of mollusks'

5 He hugged his family and said, 'I'll see you next time,' before being gunned down on Facebook video

Today's Paper

Today's print stories

View e-Replica edition

Market Watch

DJIA 0.9% NASDAQ 0.89%

Co. name or symbol

Last Update: 4:41 PM 04/18/2017(DJIA&NASDAQ)

Get quote

Live Discussions

Weekly schedule, past shows

E-book

Pulitzer Prize-winning reporting: Uncovering Trump

In February 2016, presidential candidate Donald Trump promised $6 million in donations, including $1 million from his own pocket, to charities along his campaign trail. But by the time he won the New Hampshire primary, he had stopped giving away money and had donated far less than his pledged amount. Post reporter David A. Fahrenthold went in search of the missing money and found a bigger story than he ever expected.

Diversions

Comics Eggz
Crosswords Horoscopes
Mah Jongg Solitaire
Sudoku TV listings

From Our Advertisers

Content from Sub-Zero Wasted Yet Wanted

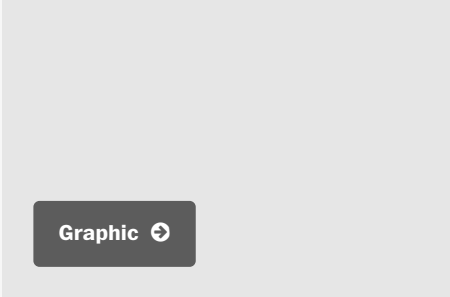

Content from NAREIT REITS connect your world

Content from Wells Fargo Gifting equity in a home

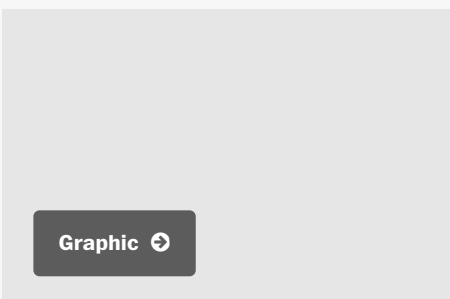

(Ken Cedeno)

This floating medical clinic offers a lifeline for the indigenous poor of the Amazon

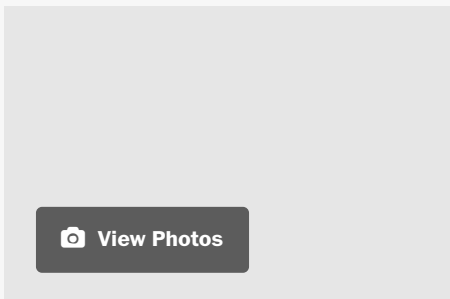

(Darla Cameron and Juliet Eilperin/Post)

How Trump is rolling back Obama's legacy

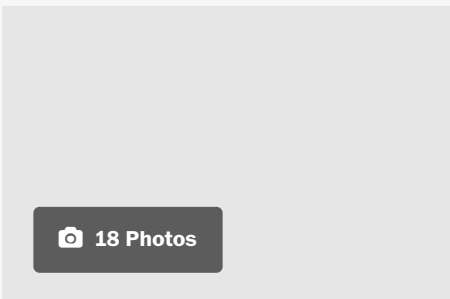

(Post)

How realistic are N.Y. apartments from 'Girls' to 'I Love Lucy'?

(Chris Jackson/Getty Images)

Here are 25 of the week's best photos

(Robyn Beck/AFP/Getty Images)

Photos of the spectacular and colorful 'super bloom' in California

(Jabin Botsford, Melina Mara/The Washington Post)

The scene at the White House during President Trump's first Easter Egg Roll

Politics

Hearing first arguments as member of the Supreme Court, Gorsuch jumps right in

Trump's First 100 Days: Trump to sign 'Hire American,' 'Buy American' order

Trump officials turn to courts to block Obama-era legacy

21,000 people and 18,000 eggs: The Trump White House holds its first Easter Egg Roll

World

Hallmarks of Soviet postwar building boom are finally meeting their demise

White House warns North Korea not to test U.S. resolve, offering Syria and Afghanistan strikes as examples

Trump calls Erdogan to congratulate him on contested referendum, Turkey says

In divided Turkey, president defends victory in referendum granting new powers

National

National manhunt underway for suspect in Facebook homicide video

After a coldblooded killing in Cleveland, GoFundMe was flooded with questionable donation pages

Responders wrest control of leaking BP oil and gas well in Alaska's Prudhoe Bay area

PostEverything

Perspective
Are there too many music festivals?

Perspective
Head winds and tail winds: Assessing the current economy

Perspective
U.S. foreign policy and the Trump administration's Axis of Adults

Perspective
The 'Mother of All Bombs' isn't that big. Why did it unsettle us so much?

Local

17-hour standoff involving man, 2 children ends, Fairfax police say

Metro rider beaten, robbed on Red Line train

Feds investigate claims that black and disabled students face harsher discipline in Richmond

Murder cases without the victim's body are difficult, prosecutors say, but winnable

Sports

How Elena Delle Donne ended up joining the Washington Mystics

Perspective
As Capitals start to squirm, nervous feelings hit close to home for player's family

CSN host after Caps' loss: 'Can we talk people off the ledge?' (Answer: Not really.)

Analysis
Five takeaways from the Capitals' heartbreaking OT loss to the Maple Leafs in Game 3

Lifestyle

Review
Is Kendrick Lamar the greatest of all time? (Don't ask. Listen.)

In the fight of his career, O'Reilly's side swings back on harassment charge

Perspective
'Girls' series finale surprise: Motherhood doesn't magically change who you are

Perspective
Carolyn Hax: She has two jobs while he has none, but it pays to talk about it

Arts

Review
Dramatic tricks abound in new 'Magic Play'

Russian pianist quarrels, attacks and fox trots in spectacular debut at the Phillips

She said, he said: journalist accuses Woodward of 'breathtaking betrayal.'

Review
Three large masterpieces, reunited for the first time

Technology

What Windows users should know about the latest bugs revealed by NSA leakers

California regulator cites Uber, alleging lax handling of drunk drivers

Facebook fights fake news online with full-page print newspaper ads

The government just wrapped a major auction that'll shape the future of the Internet

Federal Government

Perspective
Despite rhetoric, Trump plan focuses more on staff cuts than good government

Perspective
Trump gets a VA headache: 'serious deficiencies' at D.C. hospital

Trump can start cutting the federal workforce right now

Perspective
USPS agrees to $49 million settlement after having long 'dawdled' in payments to beneficiaries

Business

Analysis
Republicans can't find a way to repeal Obamacare because too many of them secretly love it

The great dairy trade war that will test President Trump

Perspective
This bank will take cheese as collateral

Read the latest from Capital Business

Real Estate

Three-bedroom, two-bathroom Rambler in Silver Spring lists for $395,000

Selling your home in a seller's market isn't as easy as you think

How to find a real estate agent who'll best meet your needs

In D.C.'s Shepherd Park, residents are close to downtown — and each other

Terms of Use	Get Us	Contact Us	About Us
Digital Products	Home Delivery	Help & Contact Info	In the Community
Terms of Sale	Digital Subscription	Reader Representative	Careers
Terms of Service	Gift Subscriptions	Advertise	PostPoints
Privacy Policy	Mobile & Apps	News Service Syndicate	Newspaper in Education
Submissions and Discussion Policy	Newsletters & Alerts		Digital Publishing Guidelines
RSS Terms of Service	Washington Post Live		Today's Paper
Ad Choices	Reprints & Permissions		WP BrandStudio
	Post Store		Events
	Photo Store
	e-Replica		