

Rice denies leaking names of Trump officials from intelligence reports

Some Republican lawmakers want former Obama national security adviser Susan E. Rice to testify about claims that she sought to uncover the identities of President Trump campaign or transition officials concealed in intercepts. The allegations — which Rice called “completely false” — quickly overtook the steady drumbeat of revelations about connections to Moscow that have dogged Trump for months.

Trump decries ‘reprehensible’ deadly chemical attack in Syria, blames Obama administration

At least 58 people were killed after airstrikes delivered an unidentified chemical agent on a Syrian town. The attack by the Syrian regime, one of the deadliest in the country in years, also left clinics full of patients foaming at the mouth or struggling to breathe.

Advertisers flee Bill O'Reilly's Fox News show amid sexual-harassment claims

At least 11 companies, including leading car, financial and pharmaceutical advertisers, have suspended or removed ads from “The O'Reilly Factor” after news that the host has been the subject of a succession of sexual-harassment allegations over the past 15 years. The retreat represented the most significant threat to O'Reilly seen during his long, successful and occasionally controversy-riven career at Fox.
