

Ala. governor resigns amid allegations he tried to cover up affair with a top aide

Gov. Robert Bentley (R) stepped down after being charged with two campaign and ethics violations on the same day that state lawmakers opened impeachment hearings against him. Bentley has fought for more than a year against allegations that he used public resources to carry out and conceal an affair with his former top aide.

By Amber Phillips ·

• Video: Alabama governor announces 'I will be leaving the office today'

U.S. military struggles to explain civilian casualties in war against militants

Military officials insist there has been no significant change to the rules governing its air campaign in Iraq and Syria. But some wonder whether reports of a higher death count is a product of President Trump's bare-knuckle military stance and his suggestions that the United States should "take out" militants' families.

By Missy Ryan ·

• Trump's military strikes in Syria complicated by Iran's role

Teacher, 8-year-old student killed in California special-ed classroom shooting, officials say

A teacher was killed inside a classroom at North Park Elementary School, and her estranged husband died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound, police said. An 8-year-old boy died at a local hospital, a 9-year-old child who was wounded remains in stable condition, authorities said.

By Sandhya Somashekhar and Lindsey Bever ·

A Tesla Model X sport utility vehicle at an assembly plant. (Bloomberg)

Tesla's 'crazy' climb to America's most valuable car company

The darling of Silicon Valley became the most valuable American car company, surpassing General Motors, even though Tesla lost hundreds of millions of dollars last year alone. The company's reputation as beyond-a-car company has captured the imagination of California's technology pack and, apparently, investors.

By Thomas Heath ·

GOP undertakes unexpected rescue mission in a deep red Kansas congressional district

A Democrat isn't supposed to have a chance at winning a House district that picked Donald Trump for president by 27 points. But Tuesday's election to replace now-CIA Director Mike Pompeo is closer than expected, and the result could provide a sign of how much of a challenge Republicans will face in the 2018 midterms with Trump in the White House.

By David Weigel ·

• The Fix: What can the special elections in Kansas and Georgia tell us about Trump?

Post reporter David Fahrenthold wins Pulitzer Prize for stories about Trump's giving Fahrenthold set out to learn what had become of $6 million Donald Trump said he'd raised for veterans. That was the start of a reporting effort that eventually covered all of Trump's charitable giving — and the illusions he'd created that made his philanthropy seem more impressive than it was.

By Paul Farhi ·

- Read the stories by The Post's winner and finalists
- Full list: The 2017 Pulitzer Prize winners

Opinions

No one should feel good about Trump's attack on Syria

By Eugene Robinson

The struggle to give a soul to a soulless presidency

By Michael Gerson

Don't fight Trump with conspiracy theories. What's there is damning enough.

By Dana Milbank

The Syria strike was the right decision — by the wrong person

By Richard Cohen

Our businessman president looks pretty anti-business

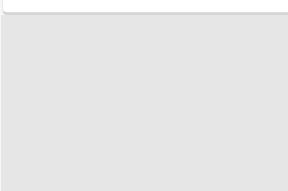

By Catherine Rampell

Trump is crippling his own administration

Editorial Board

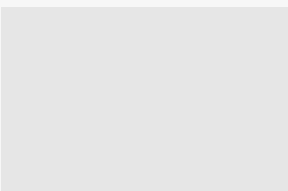

More Top Stories

Judge again finds Texas's voter ID law was crafted to discriminate

The ruling by the U.S. district judge comes more than two years after she likened the ballot-box rules to a "poll tax" meant to suppress minority voters. She is holding to that conclusion after an appeals court asked her to go back and re-examine her findings.

By Paul J. Weber | AP ·

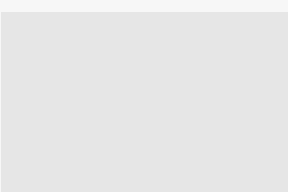

Analysis

The Senate may be developing an electoral college issue

By one metric, lawmakers representing less than half the country are passing measures in the chamber.

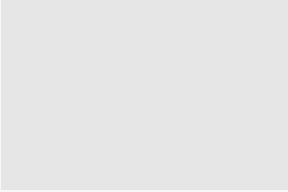

By Philip Bump ·

As politicians take a hard line on immigration, Pope Francis rallies a powerful force to migrants' side

Catholic cardinals, bishops and priests are emerging as some of the most influential opponents of immigration crackdowns backed by right-wing populists in the U.S. and Europe. The moves come as Francis, who has put migrants at the top of his agenda, appears to be leading by example.

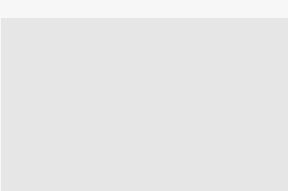

By Anthony Faiola and Sarah Pulliam Bailey ·

U.S., Mexico, Canada make unprecedented joint bid for 2026 World Cup

The head of the U.S. Soccer Federation said the proposal sends "a hugely positive signal and symbol of what we can do together."

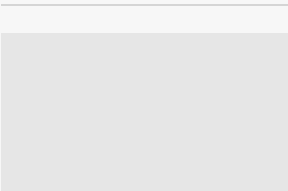

By Steven Goff ·

After Egypt church bombings, Israel closes southern border with Sinai

Israelis were urged to leave Egypt amid fears that the Islamic State could target tourists visiting Sinai during Passover.

By Sudarsan Raghavan and Ruth Eglash ·

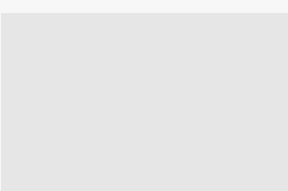

Passenger dragged off United plane after refusing to give up his seat on overbooked flight

Horrified passengers recorded the man being pulled screaming from his seat and thrown to the floor of the plane with a bloody nose.

By Avi Selk ·

- Why do airlines overbook flights?
- Tripping: United, we were friends — until you started dragging people off planes

Salt from icy roads is contaminating North America's lakes

At least 7,770 freshwater lakes are at risk of elevated salt levels — a likely underestimate, environmental researchers said.

By Ben Guarino ·

- The quest to capture and store carbon — and slow climate change — just reached a new milestone

She wanted to criticize Black Lives Matter in a college speech. A protest shut her down.

Officials at Claremont McKenna College anticipated protests, but campus police weren't prepared for the hundreds of students that rallied against pro-police speaker Heather Mac Donald.

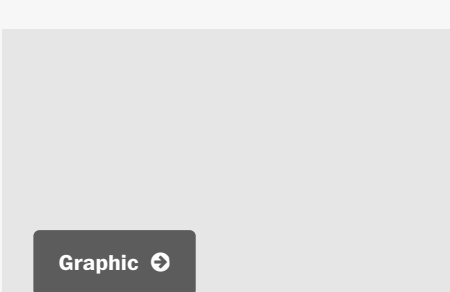

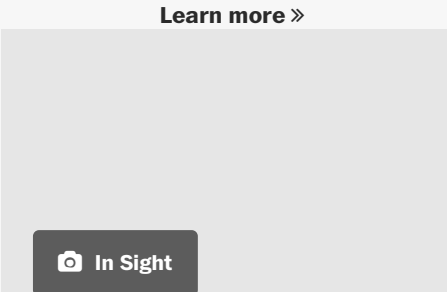

By Cleve R. Wootson Jr. ·

Share news tips with us confidentially

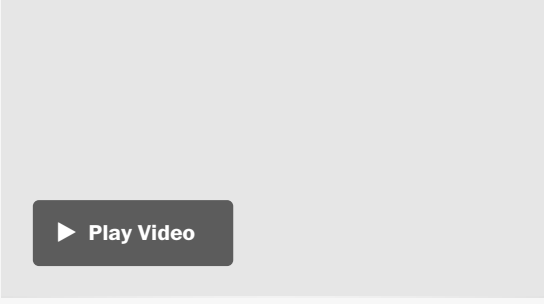

Do you have information the public should know? Here are some ways you can securely send information and documents to Post journalists.

Learn more »

Visual Stories

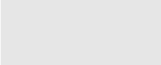

Video

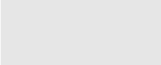

(Claritza Jimenez/The Washington Post)

What we know about the Paris airport attack

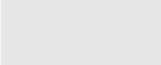

How a scandal brought down the Alabama governor

► Play Video 2:05

How TV shows like 'Sesame Street' can help normalize autism

► Play Video 3:41

What the U.S. strike against Syria means for Bashar al-Assad and the region

► Play Video 1:49

Cast of 'Veep' talks the challenges of satirizing current U.S. politics

► Play Video 2:47

Most Read

- 1

A man wouldn't leave an overbooked United flight. So he was dragged off, battered and limp.
- 2

Teacher, 8-year-old student killed after husband opens fire in San Bernardino classroom, officials say
- 3

Sessions orders Justice Dept. to end forensic science commission, suspend review policy
- 4

Washington Post's David Fahrenthold wins Pulitzer Prize for dogged reporting of Trump's philanthropy
- 5

Analysis
The Senate may be developing an electoral college issue

Today's Paper

Today's print stories

View e-Replica edition

Market Watch

DJIA 0.01% NASDAQ 0.05%

Last Update: 4:15 PM 04/11/2017 (DJIA&NASDAQ) Get quote

Live Discussions

Weekly schedule, past shows

E-book

Pulitzer Prize-winning reporting: Uncovering Trump

In February 2016, presidential candidate Donald Trump promised $6 million in donations, including $1 million from his own pocket, to charities along his campaign trail. But by the time he won the New Hampshire primary, he had stopped giving away money and had donated far less than his pledged amount. Post reporter David A. Fahrenthold went in search of the missing money and found a bigger story than he ever expected.

Diversions

Comics

Eggz

Crosswords

Horoscopes

Mah Jongg

Solitaire

Sudoku

TV listings

From Our Advertisers

Content from NAREIT

REITS connect your world

Content from UPS

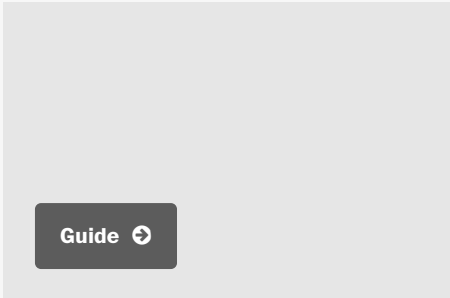

Third-party logistics providers can make all the difference in cost, service

Content from Wells Fargo

Gifting equity in a home

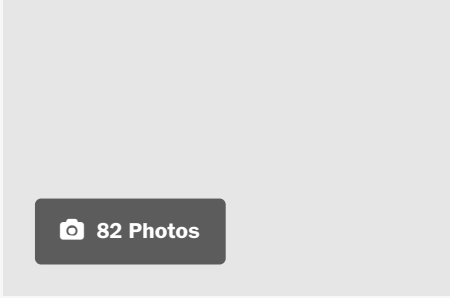

(Sarah L. Voisin/Post)

This is winter life on a cold Canadian island

(Caitlin O'Hara for The Post)

Why you should visit Scottsdale

(Dan Kitwood/Getty Images)

Photos of the royal family: William, Catherine, George and Charlotte

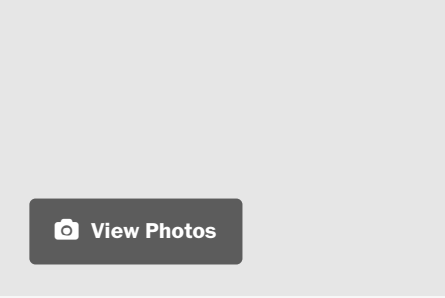

(Laris Karklis and Chris Alcantara/Post)

Syria has morphed from civil war to a multi-factional tinderbox

(China Stringer Network/Reuters)

Here are 29 of the week's best photos

(Corcoran Group)

Inside the storied Grey Gardens estate

Politics

Club for Growth aims to muscle House moderates into accepting Freedom Caucus health proposal

Trump's first 100 days: More words don't clarify the president's approach to Syria

Texas voter ID law was designed to discriminate against minorities, judge rules

Alabama governor resigns, pleads guilty to charges tied to allegations he tried to cover up affair with a top aide

World

After Egypt church bombings, Israel closes southern border with Sinai

How Pope Francis is leading the Catholic Church against anti-migrant populism

After reports of civilian deaths, U.S. military struggles to defend air operations in war against militants

China urged to come clean about 'grotesque' level of capital punishment

National

Charleston church shooter Dylann Roof pleads guilty in state court, avoids second death penalty trial

Teacher, 8-year-old student killed after husband opens fire in San Bernardino classroom, officials say

Texas voter ID law was designed to discriminate against minorities, judge rules

Alabama governor resigns, pleads guilty to charges tied to allegations he tried to cover up affair with a top aide

PostEverything

Perspective
How I led a Passover Seder in Afghanistan (complete with Army-issued horseradish)

Perspective
Why is Trump's intervention in Syria different from all other interventions?

Perspective
When it comes to economic policy, be direct!

Perspective
Public libraries need help. The super-rich could provide it.

Local

Trump Organization settles restaurant suit with second chef, Geoffrey Zakarian

Officer is injured in incident on Birney Place SE

Man arrested in fatal stabbing in Southeast D.C.

Perspective
She builds tiny rooms for squirrels and then snaps photos. The result: Four books.

Sports

Cavaliers' decision to rest stars against Heat could have big impact on playoff race

Nationals break out the bats, hammer Cardinals, 14-6

Redskins' Junior Galette arrested Friday night, released on $500 bond

Wizards close out Palace of Auburn Hills in style with win over Pistons

Lifestyle

Brian Stelter has been training for this moment his entire life

Perspective
The coded language of the alt-right is helping to power its rise

Perspective
4 things kids (and adults) can learn from Sesame Street's autistic Muppet

Perspective
It's possible to have a healthy friendship with an ex

Arts

Review
How 'Chicago' became the musical for every American decade, for all time

The fight between cosmetic legends Helena Rubinstein and Elizabeth Arden

'Walking With 'Trane': A dance ode to the art of John Coltrane

Opinion
The key to raising happy kids? The latest trend says do as the Dutch do.

Technology

The FCC is reversing its proposal to allow cellphone use on planes

Analysis
A chicken nugget-loving teen is on track to break the all-time retweet record

The U.S. government has withdrawn its request ordering Twitter to identify a Trump critic

Uber fires back at Waymo's lawsuit alleging theft of trade secrets

Business

She was pregnant and broke. She signed up for Uber — and fell into debt.

Analysis
United Airlines' 2017 business model: Drag a person off a plane, keep raking in record profits

Wells Fargo orders two executives to pay back an additional $75 million after sales scandal probe

Read the latest from Capital Business

Federal Government

Perspective
Feds' best places to work might not be so good for long

Perspective
EPA staffer leaves with a bang, blasting agency policies under Trump

New withdrawal options for TSP investors proposed

Concerns about hiring freeze's disruption, costs spur request for audit

Real Estate

Inside the storied Grey Gardens estate

How to hire the right lawn care expert

What you need to know before obtaining a private mortgage from a family member

Smart home model integrates Amazon's Alexa technology

Terms of Use

Digital Products Terms of Sale
Print Products Terms of Sale
Terms of Service
Privacy Policy
Submissions and Discussion Policy
RSS Terms of Service
Ad Choices

Get Us

Home Delivery
Digital Subscription
Gift Subscriptions
Mobile & Apps
Newsletters & Alerts
Washington Post Live
Reprints & Permissions
Post Store
Photo Store
e-Replica

Contact Us

Help & Contact Info
Reader Representative
Advertise
News Service Syndicate

About Us

In the Community
Careers
PostPoints
Newspaper in Education
Digital Publishing Guidelines
Today's Paper
WP BrandStudio
Events